CONSPIRATORS IN LEAVENWORTH

Nineteen Convicted Terre Haute Men Arrive at Federal Prison Aboard Special Today.

INCIDENTS OF THE TRIP

Police Chief Holler Curses Roberts, Says he Wishes he Had Never Seen the Mayor.

(By United Press.)

Leavenworth, Kas., April 19.—Nineteen Terre Haute conspirators, including Mayor Donn M. Roberts, Circuit Judge El Redman and Chief of Police Ed Holler arrived at the federal penitentiary just before noon today in the special car in which they came from Indianapolis.

The prisoners saw the end of the journey gladly even though it meant years of imprisonment for them, for they had experienced a most tiresome trip in a day coach. During the night Mayor Roberts and the others caught only brief snatches of sleep curled up on a seat.

Roberts was treated coldly by many of his companions. Holler cursed him, saying he wished he had never seen the mayor. Holler himself was shunned, for he was the only confessed conspirator abroad the prison car. Hilton Redman blamed Roberts for his predicament.

Roberts tried to put life into the crowd. He called on Harry Montgomery to make a stump speech.

"I'm through with politics," said the former president of the board of works.

As the train left Jefferson City some one asked what lights he saw and it was explained they were the lights of the state prison. There was silence for a time.

George Ehrenhardt gave out a formal statement in which he spoke highly of Judge Anderson, District Attorney Dailey and Marshal Storen. The former member of the board of works said he would try to gain liberty at the earliest possible moment by being a model prisoner. He said that under no circumstances would he accept bond for release.

The car containing the Terre Haute party was cut off of the Colorado flier at the prison yards and a special engine pushed it through the big iron gate into the "trap" on the federal property. Another gate opened and the car was brought within a few feet of the prison door.

The prisoners were received by Captain Purcell acting deputy warden. Their names and addresses were taken, they submitted to a physical examination and then they were photographed and their Bertillon measurements and finger prints recorded.

Warden Morgan said it had not been determined what tasks would be assigned the men. Places probably will be found for them as clerks or orderlies. They were taken to the prison dining room and had their first taste of prison fare.

AN HOUR AT KANSAS CITY.

(By United Press.)

Kansas City, April 19.—Bearing Mayor Donn Roberts and Fourteen other co-conspirators in the Terre Haute election frauds, the Missouri Pacific special arrived in the yards here shortly before 8 a. m. today. The train was kept here an hour before preceeding to Leavenworth where the prisoners will begin serving sentences ranging from six years to a year and a day.

The special car bearing the sixteen Terre Haute convicted conspirators left Indianapolis shortly after one o'clock yesterday afternoon.

SPEAKS WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Dr. J. N. Hurty Will Talk on "Taxes and Public Health."

Preparations are being made for the coming of Dr. J. N. Hurty, state health commissioner, Wednesday, when he will deliver an address in the evening at seven-thirty o'clock at the Graham school auditorium on the subject, "Taxation and Public Health." He is being brought here by the parent teachers association. A special musical and literary program is being prepared to be given before the lecture. The lecture is open to the public and it hoped that a large crowd will turn out to hear the man who has made Indiana health laws a model for other states to copy.

TARPLEE'S AUTO DAMAGED BY FIRE

Overflow From Gasoline Tank is Ignited by Electric Spark and Blaze Envelopes Machine.

THE ENGINE IS NOT INJURED

The automobile owned by James Tarplee was badly damaged by fire Sunday morning in front of the Service garage in West Second street when the overflow of gasoline from the tank ignited from an electric spark. The gasoline tank on the auto had just been filled and in doing so the tank overflowed. On starting the engine, a spark ignited the gasoline and in a moment the machine was in flames.

The engine was not damaged but the machine from the windshield on back was practically demolished. The fire department was called and chemicals were used to good advantage in saving a part of the machine. Tarplee did not carry any insurance.

ROBBERS ENTER A LOCAL MEAT MARKET

Gaining Entrance Through Rear Door, Thieves Steal $2 But Disturbs Nothing Else.

ANOTHER THEFT REPORTED

The meat market of Harry Kramer was entered some time Saturday night after eleven o'clock and two dollars taken from the cash register. Entrance was gained through a rear window which was pried open. The store was closed Saturday night about eleven o'clock and only two dollars was left in the cash drawer.

The robbery was discovered Sunday morning. The burglar was evidently after money only as no meat was missed. The cash register was not damaged as the robber opened the drawer as in making a sale.

Thieves stole groceries from Ed Benedict's porch at 629 West Fifth street Saturday.

It is believed would-be robbers were frightened away from the home of John Higgs corner of Eighth and Jackson streets Saturday night. Foot tracks were found under the window where it was thought they were trying to gain entrance.

Mrs. Joe Harlan, living south of Newcastle, who has been suffering for several weeks from appendicitis, underwent an operation at the Sexton hospital Saturday.

TO MAKE FARMER PAY MORE TAXES

Bartholomew County Assessor Writes Other Assessors Inquiring About Farm Appraisements.

HENRY W. SCHRADER REPLIES

Rural Land Assessments, it is Expected, Will Average About $50 An Acre, Here, Which is Average.

In an effort to lessen the burdens of the city taxpayer, William G. Smith, assessor of Bartholomew county, has written to a number of other assessors inquiring about their rural land assessments. Henry W. Schrader, Rush county assessor, received a letter from Mr. Smith and replied that it was hoped to make the average land assessment in Rush county fifty dollars an acre.

Mr. Smith is of the opinion that there is too much difference between the assessment of farm property and city property and he is endeavoring to raise the assessment of farm land in Bartholomew county so that farmers will have to pay their share of the taxes.

Mr. Smith, according to the Columbus Republican is of the opinion that much city real estate is appraised at its actual value, whereas farm land is not being assessed at much more than forty per cent of its value, if as much.

Mr. Smith was especially desirous of learning what the rule was about the assessment of farm lands located near the county seat. Mr. Schrader replied that the farms near Rushville were being assessed at from ninety to one hundred dollars an acre. This is up to the standard being followed in other counties, according to replies the Bartholomew county assessor received.

C. B. Jones, assessor of Howard county, replies that land within two miles of Kokomo is being assessed at from $75 to $125 per acre, according to location. If the same rate of assessment was applied in Bartholomew county there would almost be a revolution and the court house likely would be in danger, the Columbus Republican avers. Assessor Jones says Howard county land as a whole average about $40 an acre in 1911 and that the average will be about $50 this year, taking the county over.

A. D. Johnson assessor of Johnson county, has written Mr. Smith that land near Franklin is being assessed on a basis of from $75 to $90 per acre and some vacant ground within the corporate limits of Franklin is being assessed at $100 per acre. Along the interurban line land in Johnson county is being listed at from $60 to $75 per acre. Other good land in more remote parts of Johnson county is being assessed this year at from $40 to $60 per acre, the assessor said.

FUNERAL TOMORROW.

The funeral services of Edward Young who died Saturday afternoon, will be conducted at the late residence in West Seventh street, Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock. The Knights Templar will be in charge.

LAST LECTURE TONIGHT.

The last lecture of the series, an extra one, will be given by Mrs. Demarehus C. Brown of Indianapolis at the Graham school assembly room tonight at seven-thirty o'clock on the subject, "The Burne Country." The first part of the lecture will be devoted to Robert Burns and the last of municipal ownership as it has been applied in Glasgow, Scotland.

BARNES LIBEL TRIAL STARTS

Politics Expected to Play Important Part in Suit in Which Roosevelt is Defendant

MANY REVELATIONS EXPECTED

Based on Assertion That There Was a Bipartisan Agreement Between Barnes and Murphy

(By United Press.)

Syracuse, N. Y., April 19. Colonel Roosevelt was the first of the principals to arrive at the Onondaga court today for the opening of the damage suit for $50,000 brought against him by William Barnes. Barnes asked that sum because the former president named him as a partner with "Boss" Murphy of Tammany Hall in "an alliance between crooked business and crooked politics." "Roosevelt was snatched by the movies and showed his teeth."

Barnes and his counsel arrived a few minutes later. His face wore the usual scowl.

James Gregor, farmer, a Republican was the first talesman examined by attorneys for Barnes.

The questions indicated that Barnes relies upon Justice Andrews to hold that the Roosevelt statement was in itself libelous. He also was asked if political consideration would influence him or if he would try the case as an ordinary case.

During the trial of the Barnes-Roosevelt, suit Theodore Roosevelt promises to open Republican state organization closets and reveal some political skeletons. William Barnes is suing the former Republican president and present Progressive leader to recover $50,000 damages for alleged libel.

Amidst his pre-election activities last year, Roosevelt declared a bipartisan agreement existed in this state between the Republican and Democratic organizations. He specifically accused Barnes of being politically leagued with Charles F. Murphy. Barnes although no longer Republican state committee chairman, is regarded still as state Republican leader. Murphy, as head of Tammany hall, is looked on as state Democratic leader. Following the colonel's cry of "combination" against Barnes, the Republican leader instituted his present libel action.

Barnes first petitioned the case's trial in Albany county, his place of residence. Before Supreme Court Justice Chester at Albany Roosevelt some weeks ago moved for a change of venue. The colonel alleged Barnes controlled Albany county and an "impartial trial" was impossible for him there. Justice Chester denied the motion by the appellate division at Saratoga upon Roosevelt's appeal fixed Onondaga county as the place of trial.

A prevailing impression is that the present court proceeding is rich in possible revelations, affecting not only Albany county and New York city politics but also state and even national politics. According to some political observers the trial may tell an interesting and illuminating story of all four. Roosevelt's friends declare that he as New York's governor used his opportunity to learn the Empire State's "inside politics" and he stands ready to share his alleged knowledge with the public.

That the defense will probe deeply into any possible political operations on Barnes part in Albany County is certain. Reports from Albany declare that the defendant's counsel has scattered a number of subpoenas in that district. The indication is that the records of the Democratic probe of several years ago in

FACES DEATH ON GALLOWES

Leo M. Frank's Appeal is Denied by Supreme Court Today.

(By United Press.)

Washington, April 19.—The supreme court today refused to set aside conviction of Leo M. Frank, the young Atlanta, Ga., Jew, of murdering Mary Phagan. Frank now faces death on the gallows unless Georgia's governor grants clemency. The court denied Frank's application for a habeas corpus writ upon which Frank sought a new trial.

Justice Holmes read a dissenting opinion, stating Justice Hughes and he were of the opinion that the judgment should be reserved.

WIFE THREW BUCKET OF WATER ON HIM

WHAT SHE CALLED CHILDREN

Claire Smith this morning filed suit for divorce against his wife, Ella Smith. Smith alleges cruel and inhuman treatment, and according to the complaint, sets out that she had a bad temper and easily became angry with him. It is alleged that on one of these occasions she threw a bucket of water on him.

He alleges that she was a constant user of profane language and frequently cursed him and their two children. Mr. Smith asserts that she called their children little brats and little fools. According to the complaint, they were married in Fayette county on Dec. 20, 1905 and separated on March 14, 1915. He maintains that she is not a fit person to have the care of the children and asks for the custody of both.

MAY USE PRISONERS AT HOUSE CLEANING

Custodian Joe Dickman Possibly Will Receive Assistance in Renovating Court House.

COURT MAY BE CONSULTED

Custodian Joe Dickman may use some of the prisoners at the county jail to help him with his annual spring house cleaning at the court house. Some of the ten men in jail serving long terms have asked that they be allowed to do little odd jobs that the time will not pass so heavily.

Custodian Dickman could use two or three of the men to good advantage with his spring cleaning and it is likely that they will be put to work. All of the windows in the court house are to be washed and these men in jail would do the work willingly for the exercise it is stated. Newton Casey, who has a long sentence, has asked that he be allowed to work and Frank Pittsford has signified his intentions of working if given a chance.

Sheriff Cavitt has used one or two of the men around the jail in the past few days and sees nothing wrong with working the men, providing they want to. The crimes for which the men are serving time are not of such a serious nature that the men would try to escape. The matter may be taken up with Judge Sparks to see if he favors the plan.

ANXIOUS TO GET THE BEST YIELDS

Farmers Are Taking Extra Precautions in Planting Their Corn Crops This Spring.

CONDITIONS SO UNUSUAL

Few Fear That Rains Which Are Due Now May Come in May and Rot Seed in the Ground.

Because of the heavy demands which are being and will be made on the food producers of America until the end of and some time after the European war, many Rush county farmers are taking precautions in preparing this year's corn crop. Some little corn has been planted, but farmers hesitate at planting this early in the season because of the fear that their efforts and the seed corn may be wasted by unfavorable weather conditions yet this month.

But the weather has been so unusually good this month that spring work has progressed farther at this time and more corn has been planted than at the same period in many recent years. Because of the prices which their produce are bringing because of the struggle in Europe, farmers are using more than their usual care because it means much more money to get the best yields possible.

It was predicted by one farmer today that if the weather continues as warm all week as it was today, there will not be many farmers who will hesitate about planting corn and that practically every farm in Rush county will be in the throes of this annual task before the week is out.

As early as a week ago last Saturday one farmer reported the planting of corn. There are several others who are known to have begun planting last week. Some farmers, however, are still afraid to take the risk, but the kind of weather that prevailed today is calculated to remove all fears of any damage befalling the seed corn.

It is doubtful if there are a dozen farms in Rush county, it was stated today, where the spring plowing is not completed. Those farmers who hesitated about planting their corn have been coasting along doing other spring work and waiting for the accepted time for planting. Ground that was broken early has been frozen several times, but it will not require much work to put it in condition.

His Success

"The tide turned when I stopped scattering my shots and centered my advertising in the daily newspapers."

So a well-known Chicago merchant summed up the beginnings of his great success.

The same story is told by hundreds of other successful business men.

They found when they had a real message that the place to tell it was in the advertising columns of the newspaper.

People read it and their quick response shows that they were on the lookout for this very sort of news.

ed: "Now, Donn, come out and give us a speech."

Some one got a glimpse of Roberts through the opening at the side of the drawn window blinds and shouted:

"There goes another governorship boom."

In the crowd were many tear-stained eyes. Women and children, relatives of the accused wept as they waved a farewell when the train departed from the Terre Haute station.

As the train passed through the west part of Terre Haute, Lewis Nunley opened the car window and tossed into a yard near the track a letter to which was pinned a pink carnation. The letter was addressed to his mother, who lives at the address where it was tossed out. The only one of the prisoners to display any emotion as the train drew out of Terre Haute was Edward Driscoll, who was leaving behind in Terre Haute, his wife and three little daughters.

Driscoll, who was Roberts's secretary in the campaign, conversed with his wife and three children through the closed window.

"I sent you a letter; do just what I said in it," Driscoll shouted through the closed window and the tear-dimmed eyes of the wife expressed their understanding.

An aged man and woman edged their way through the crowd to the train. They carried a market basket. They intrusted it to one of the guards and asked him to give it to Judge Eli H. Redman and his son, Hilton. The basket contained an abundant supply of fried chicken.

SUIT FOR $5,500 ON NOTE STARTS

Case of H. J. Milligan vs. American Finance and Security Co., and Others in Circuit Court.

STARTED IN MARION COUNTY

The last week of the February term started this morning when the case of Harry J. Milligan against the American Finance and Securities Company, F. D. Heath and Cassius M. Curry, started before a jury and Special Judge Raymond Springer, of Connersville. A vacation of one week will result and then the May term of court will open.

Very little difficulty was had in securing a jury in the case as nothing was known of it here. The case was sent to this county on a change of venue from Shelby county. It was originally filed in Marion county. In the suit Milligan demands $5,500 on notes, naming the three defendants.

The case will likely take several days. The jury is as follows: Robert Kennedy, Robert Jarrett, James H. Spillman, Fred D. Pike, Charles Markle, Frank Brown, Horatio Havens, R. B. Rhodes, Henry Addison, J. R. McHenry, T. E. Medd and Patrick Carroll.

Edward Hassett, fire chief at Connersville, an old baseball player who was well known here, died at his sister's home in Newcastle Sunday after a three months illness with hardening of the arteries. Hassett played ball here frequently in years past.

The sale of Ida L. McKee administratrix of the estate of S. S. McKee will be held Wednesday April 21st beginning at one o'clock. 400 bushels of corn, 5 tons of hay, 132 head of hogs, farming implements, 4 head of cattle, 2 head of horses and numerous other articles. 311

That New Submarine, Which Is In Vogue, Refuses To Be Submerged

BY MARGARET MASON
(Written for United Press.)
A new hat is the submarine. A shipshape hat it is I ween. Yet inconsistent it behaves—

It always rests above the waves. London, Apr. 16.—(By Mail to New York)—Ye ho! there my hearties! There's a crafty little new chapeau in the port of Fashion. Though it's dubbed the submarine it refused to be submerged and partly rides the crests of sleek coiffed heads and nestles snugly atop the Marcel waves of all the smartest dressers.

In its original form it is a close fitting elongated turban (not turbins) of tube straw in a Bordeaux color with an astonishing long cross airrette jutting up almost perpendicularly. As the submarine hat like all the others of the moment is worn rakishly tilted well down over the right eye it brings the airrette to a most distressing angle for unfortunate adjacent fellow beings. Mayhap this is where it gets one of its reasons for being christened in honor of an undersea destroyer.

Another new hat fancy is the pansy bonnet. Shakespeare's Ophelia said pansies for thought so the modern maid whose only and every thought is for Fashion says pansies are for hats and there they are.

Wonderfully realistic replicas they are of nature's most piquant flower and they bloom in purple profusion around the tiny toques and turbans of purpleish taupe and tete de negre straw which have superseded the all lack straw for wear with street and informal costumes.

One adorable model of mauve toned taupe is of the tiny and elongated shape similar to the submarine. It has a soft crown of the same toned satin and banding its brimless outline are exquisite pansies shading from deepest velvety purple and wine to light lavender with an occasional little sunny yellow faced one peering out coquettishly.

Aigrettes flourish with undiminished popularity on this side of the water. What can the lives of a few birds more or less matter in countries where human life is at present being sacrificed so ruthlessly.

Every hat that does not bloom

with pansie sprouts aigrettes in some form or other. No wonder the aigrettes are usually "cross."

The extremely inadequate evening gowns have been appropriately christened "spy" gowns. After all there is something in a name. In this case much more than is in the dress. The three tiered skirts that are also the whim of the moment are called "The Allies" and some even go so far as to show a tiny embroidered flag of the three nations one each embroidered on a tier. There is really a touch of embroidery on almost everything and designs of colored bead work are also having their ornate effect on many of the newest model frocks. Beaded bags are playing a return date but this season they are made of larger wooden beads in neutral tints of grey taupe or black and white.

Perhaps under the heads of beads would come the earring now dangling from some of our very best ears? They are simply a sphere of clouded amber swinging from the aural appendage by a slender golden chain. Of course other semi-precious stones are used to form the spheres and different color schemes are obtained with balls of jade lapid lazuli and jet or crystal. It is the yellow touch of the amber however that holds the most ears in this fetching sway.

To show your heels is a sign of bravado these days since to be well heeled is to be heeled in brightest hues. Red heels green heels, white heels and silver heels add bright flashes of color under the full abbreviated skirts. It would seem as if an ordinary plain black heel were a thing to be despised. Silver sandals with astrap across the instep, fastening with a glistening buckle of precious stones to match the costume are most alluring for evening wear. They are especially fascinating when the more conventional buckle is replaced by a scintillating dragon fly or flower poised airy on a hidden spring gleams and trembles enchantingly with the least tripping of the light fantastic.

Indeed it would take a color smith not a blacksmith all the racy little fillies on the track of fashion this spring and summer season of 1915.

Amusements

The Mystic will show a two reel drama "Thoughts of Tonight" for the first picture of tonight's program. Lucile Young and Wallace McDonald are featured. The story is said to be taken from every day life. The other picture is a comedy entitled "A Man For That." Tomorrow matinee and night the two part feature "The Adventurer" will be shown. Dorothy Davenport is featured.

The Gem offers a two part drama "The Awaited Hour" for first picture tonight. William Shay William Welch and Violet Mersereau are featured. It is said to tell a gripping story and the prison scenes are said to have really been taken inside of the state prison near New York. The other picture is a drama "The Unmasking." Edna Maison and Sydney Ayres are featured. It is a story of an Italian, who comes to this country, makes his fortune and then forgets his wife and children. Tuesday matinee and night the next episode of "The Master Key" will be shown and a three reel Bison drama.

The Princess will show the five reel feature "Wildfire" for the program tonight. Lillian Russell, the famous actress, and William Elliott are featured. The story is one of mystery containing a dandy race scene. "Wildfire" wins the race and the story ends. The acting of Lillian Russell is said to be wonderful and this is one of the big features of a recent release. Tomorrow night the two act drama "Thirteen Down" will be shown. Francis Bushman and Beverly are featured.

Carefully Treat Children's Colds

Neglect of children's colds often lays the foundation of serious lung trouble. On the other hand, it is harmful to continually dose delicate little stomachs with internal medicines or to keep the children always indoors.

Plenty of fresh air in the bedroom and a good application of Vick's "Vap-O-Rub" Salve over the throat and chest at the first sign of trouble, will keep the little chaps free from colds without injuring their digestions. 25c, 50c, or $1.00.

Headed by Mayor Donn M. Roberts, they left the Marion county jail, where they have been held since a week ago today when sentences were pronounced, at 1:15 o'clock Sunday afternoon and marched to the union station.

The prisoners were no shackles and each was accompanied by a deputy United States marshal. The prisoners included, besides Mayor Roberts, Harry S. Montgomery, a member of the Terre Haute board of works; Eli H. Redman, judge of the Vigo Circuit Court; Dennis Shea, former Sheriff of Vigo county; Edward Driscoll assistant city engineer of Terre Haute; George Ehrenhardt, former member of the board of public works; Thomas Smith, judge of the City Court; Hilton Redman, son of Eli H. Redman; Elmer E. Talbott, former city controller; Lewis Nunley city employe; William Crockett, city employe; Dr. John E. Green, dentist; Charles Houghton, city employe; Alexander Eezel, city employe, and John Edward Holler, former chief of police.

The prisoners who departed for Leavenworth left behind them in the Marion county jail eighty-two other men who were found guilty or pleaded guilty in the election fraud conspiracy case. These men, who were sentenced to terms of less than a year, will serve their sentences in the jail here.

According to dispatches received today, people were out at towns and cities along the route followed by the train to see the prisoners. The car reached Terre Haute about 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The crowd which gathered there was estimated at several thousand people.

A dispatch to the Indianapolis Star says that from the crowd at the rear of the car, some one shout-

Everybody don't call them socks—hose perhaps sounds better—but, socks or hose, there's only one remedy to the Guaranteed Hose Proposition, you have to buy more than one pair if you expect to get any wear out of them. And in buying look around and get hose that are made by people that have a reputation for making hose. For instance:

Fifty couples are expected to sit at the banquet at the Windsor hotel at eight o'clock.

Preceding the dinner, commencing at six-thirty, a reception will be held at the Elks home for the immediate families of the Elks, honoring the officials whose terms of office have just expired. No small part of the success of the Elks lodge is due to the outgoing administration, the Elks believe. The members will as well, extend a welcome to the new officials. After the banquet dancing and various games of amusement will take place at the club rooms.

What We Make It

A paragraph is flitting around in the press to the effect that "the future may be bright for some but the road will always be dark for others."

Of course some pessimist wrote it, for pessimists always mill around in the shadows. As a matter of hard fact, this world is always just about what we choose to make it. If we pull a long face and go out hunting for troubles, we will find them—in bunches. If we saddle ourselves with a case of the blues in the morning and hang onto it with a death grip all day, and take it to bed with us at night, we will probably find life's pathway shrouded in gloom. But it will be gloom of our own making, and we will be getting only that which we sought.

But how different is the other side? God inflicts us all with certain troubles but He also gives us brains, and determination, and a will power with which to rise above the petty perplexities and tribulations of life. The bright side of existence is all around us—in front of us—everywhere we turn—constantly knocking for admission. It is ours for the taking.

The man or woman who cannot feel thankful for the pure air, and the bright side of existence is all around us—in front of us—everywhere we turn—constantly knocking for admission. It is ours for the taking.

The man or woman who cannot feel thankful for the pure air, and the bright sunshine, and three meals a day, is something less than a normal human being. There is a screw loose somewhere. Even the animals of the earth and the birds of the air are not so degenerate in their class, for they seek always for the brightness of life. And is our intelligence and our will power inferior to theirs, that we should live with an ache and die with a grunt?

Every trouble inflicted upon us is for our own ultimate good, and they are infinitesimal when compared with the joys of a bright mind, a clear conscience and a determination to reap to the fullest of life's blessings. If the road is dark to some, it is because they do not use the brains which God gave them in overcoming the obstacles which He in His wisdom has placed in their pathway. Our future is up to us to make or to mar, as we choose.

Mark's Wit Recalled

When Mark Twain in his early days, was editor of a Missouri paper a superstitious subscriber wrote to him saying that he had found a spider in his paper, and asking him whether that was a sign of good or bad. The humorist wrote him this answer, and printed it:

"Old Subscriber—Finding a spider in your paper was neither good luck nor bad luck for you. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant is not advertising so that he can go to that store, spin his web across the door and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward." —London Evening Standard.

Nothing doing—we positively and emphatically and vociferously decline the presidency. Too strenuous a job while these wars are frolic-ing around the globe.

And Jack Johnson's memory will be as black as his face.

No there are no gossips in this town—just a few tongues galloping through life.

Everybody wants to go to heaven, but the young buck who spends his time making "racy" remarks about women will find it a long and rocky road to travel.

Good times are ahead for those who go after them. But the laggard will always have a grunt coming.

Pack your grip, doc! In Serbia, there are only ten doctors available for each 3,000 patients.

Cuba will allow no more prize fights. But we still have peaceful Mexico.

Steady, there! This town is no danger from the Zeppelins.

Some men are so lazy they never work except in fly time.

Keep moving. The top is always ahead of you.

HOOSIER HISTORY

(Prepared by the United Press From Records in the State Library.)

Governor Morton, the war governor, by his firm stand during the civil war, prevented opposition to the administration gaining ground in Indiana and thus prevented the state from withdrawing its support from President Lincoln.

The first volunteers enlisted for three months. It was soon found that a long term would be necessary. Three years or for the war then became the usual length of term except in unusual instances when such as 100 days. The people who stayed at home generally aided in supporting the union and the tropes in the field.

Among the frequently visited corridors in the state house are those on the third floor where are kept the many battle flags of the various regiments of Indiana which participated in the Civil War. For a number of years the battle regiment ensembles were kept in a room in the state house where they became dusty and were fast fading away. A number of years ago the patriots in this state organized a movement to preserve the standards and it resulted in the legislature making provisions for the preservation of the flags in glass cases. Many members of the various regiments who were writers have written histories of the marches, camps and battle incidents of their several regiments, and the records have carefully been preserved in the state library. Many of the records contain accurate data of the history of the state during the civil war and years subsequent.

WAR NEWS FEATURE

Paris, April 3. (By Mail to New York)—While the French government itself has undertaken the rebuilding of the thousands of homes destroyed in the present war, the women of France have just completed an organization to insure their refurnishing. The population in the invaded districts they assert will be as helpless to refurnish the homes as they would be to rebuild them.

The "Union Fraternelle des Femmes" is the organization which has just perfected the project. Madame Amelie Hammer, the president, has just explained to the United Press what is to be undertaken and how it is to be accomplished.

"Our work," she said, "is to be as much moral as it is social. We propose merely to help the unfortunate and not to give them charity. Every person whose home has been destroyed and who is unable to refurnish the new one which the government builds for them, will have help from us in just the degree they need. If absolutely imperative, we will furnish their homes without expecta-

WILL HOLD ROAD SCHOOL IN STATE

Highway Engineering Department of Purdue University Will Start Unique Undertaking

FIRST ONE AT EVANSVILLE

Representative of United States Office of Public Roads Will be Present and Speak

A road school for the first congressional district will be held at Evansville, April 29th and 30th. The school will be under the direction of the highway engineering department of Purdue university.

Prof. G. E. Martin in charge of road work at Purdue says: "This is the first of a series of road schools to be held throughout the state. The best practical information on road building and maintenance will be brought to the people. The special road problems of each section of the state will be considered in the several schools."

The Evansville school will be opened by an automobile trip over some of the highways in the vicinity of Evansville.

Governor Ralston has been invited to be present at the school and make the first address on the program.

J. H. Dodge of the U. S. office of public roads will assist in the instruction at the school. Mr. Dodge is an expert on the construction of sand-clay roads and will make a special study of Indiana conditions to determine if the sand-clay road would be a proper one to build here or not.

Among the Purdue men who will take part in the instructional work of the road school are Prof. W. K. Hatt Professor R. L. Sackett and Professor G. E. Martin, all of the School of Civil Engineering. Instruction will consist of lectures on methods of constructing sand-clay gravel and macadam roads, the use of road machinery, choice of road building materials, methods of maintaining various kinds of roads and dust prevention.

Plenty of time will be given for discussion at all sessions of the school and it is hoped that road officials will bring their problems to the school for solution. An exhibition of road building materials and road working machinery is to be held in connection with the school.

tion of repayment. But the others will pay us back in installments in conformity with their possibilities.

"While it is inevitable that Paris will be the center and the brain of this work and this organization, we have already perfected the details for other centers to participate in it. In all of the provinces adjacent to the invaded districts we have arranged for at least once one city to be a depot for supplying the furnishings to the new houses. This will give a quicker response to the needs of the destroyed villages and isolated houses and will also be a result in a distribution of the work that will be involved in the manufacture of the household equipment necessary."

France is already making a reasonable use of her war prisoners in keeping up the necessary manual labor of the nation.

For the time being at least, the sending of the prisoners to Algeria and Morocco, where thousands have been employed almost from the first days of the war, has been temporarily abandoned. They are now being utilized closer to home.

In Corsica about 3,000 are being worked in the mines. In the agricultural districts of France about 450 are being worked at Pay-de-Dome; about 1,050 in Brittany while another lot is used in railway construction along the north coast, while large contingents are being utilized in other public works in the Champagne, Creuse, Ardeche and Herault.

CARE OF INSANE IS NEW SCIENCE

Great Advances Have Been Made in Past Decade in This Particular Line of Work

NO LONGER CALLED "INMATES"

Percentage of Incurables Constantly Growing Smaller According to Dr. William Mabon

BY CARLTON TEN EYCK (Written for United Press.)

New York, Apr. 19.—Care of the insane is a new science. Medaeival tortures of lunatics are prescribed, strictly. No in any decade since the world began have such great advances been made in the care of those afflicted with insanity.

These are a few of the observations which have been pounded home to the public knowledge, and conscience, by Dr. William Mabon, medical superintendent of the Manhattan state hospital, one of the largest asylums, in the United States if not in the world.

The advance of scientific care for insane, says Dr. Mabon, is typified in a nutshell, in the fact that the name "asylum" is now tabooed. Its "hospital" instead. The unfortunates in such places are not longer "inmates," but "patients." Few are beyond hope of medical treatment. The percentage of incurables is constantly growing smaller, according to Dr. Mabon.

"There was a time when the public looked upon the institutions for the insane very much as we now look upon the prisons," said Dr. Mabon. "The fact that when we spoke of a lunatic asylum and at present speak of a hospital for the treatment of mental diseases is not merely a change in name, but indicates a profound revolution in the internal development of such institutions.

"From mere detention places, in which the essential point of view was the safeguarding of the public against dangerous lunatics the institutions developed first to custodial institutions in which the welfare of the patient was pushed into the foreground; but the treatment was yet essentially general, without adequate reference to the needs of the specific case.

"The next step of development was in the direction of the real hospital, in which each case is studied on its own merits, and the hospitals are also assuming their share in guiding the mental health of the public."

GOV. RALSTON WILL SPEAK

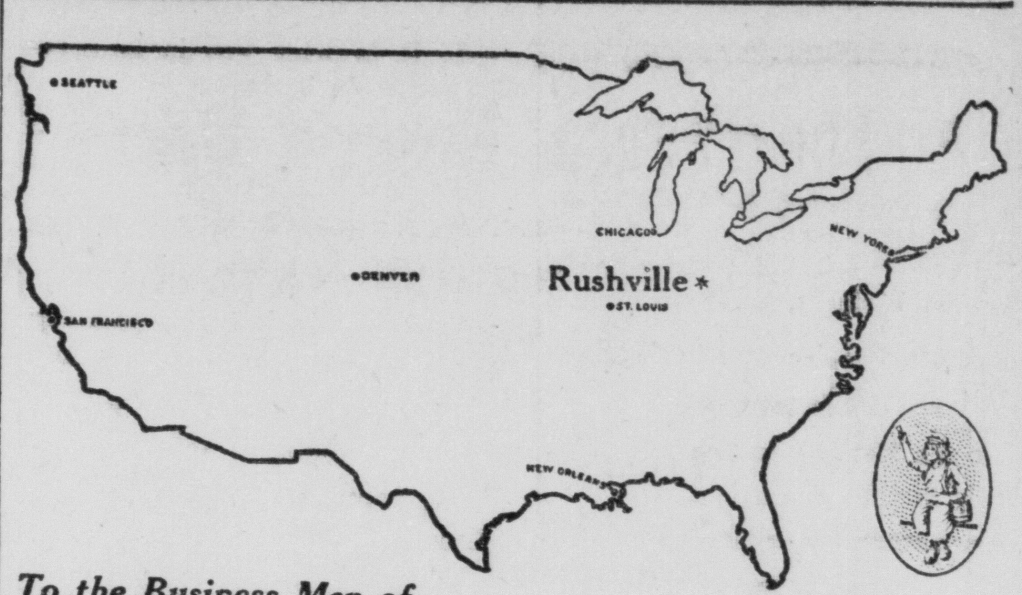

To Deliver Address at First Session of Presbytery

(By United Press.)

Lebanon, Ind., April 19.—The two day session of the spring meeting of the Crawfordville Presbytery opened at the First Presbyterian church today. One hundred ministers and delegates from the district attended the first session. Governor Samuel M. Ralston, a member of the local church will address the Presbytery tonight on the subject of "Good Citizenship." His address will be followed by a talk on "The Great War" by George L. Mackintosh, D. D., President of the Wabash college. The three sessions each day will be devoted to the business of the district presbytery and reports will be read by many commissioners appointed at the last meeting.

To the Business Men of RUSHVILLE

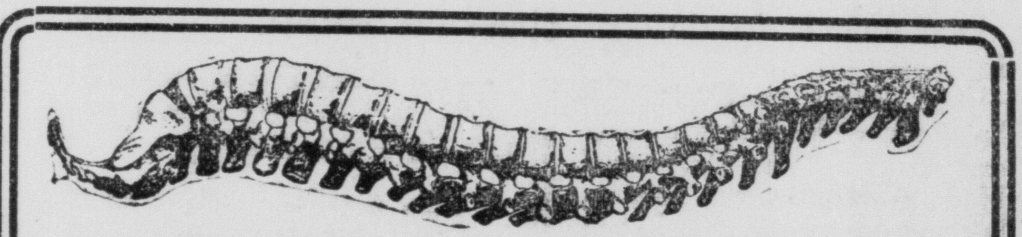

When a good salesman goes out after business, he first puts on a clean collar and gets his shoes shined. Then he looks like more business—and he's made a flying start toward getting it.

Likewise, a community can go after more business—and get it. The "clean collar and shiny shoes" of this town are the well-painted stores, the bright, cheery homes, the fresh, clean-looking buildings. The part paint plays in building up local pride cannot be put in figures—but its good effects are recorded on the local merchants' sales sheets. Buy good paint. We recommend and sell

TEAM LOSES, BUT MAKES SHOWING

In Second Practice Game of Season
 Rushville Played All-Pros Even
 For Five Innings.

VORDENBURG WAS IN FORM

Pitched Better Ball Than Seamon
 But Support in One Inning Responsible For 4 Runs.

Cincinnati, O., April 19.—In the second practice game of the season Manager Davidson's Rushville team was defeated yesterday by Weihe's All-Pros by a score of 6 to 1. But for one bad inning Rushville would have held the leaguers to a 2 to 1 count. The one bad inning behind Vordenburg was the sixth when two hits and three errors netted four runs.

The Rushville team showed remarkable form when it is taken into consideration that this was the second game the team has played and the first time this year that Vordenburg has gone the full route of nine innings. Vordenburg certainly looks good and any time he can hold a bunch of sluggers like the All Pros to seven hits he should go like a house afire in the Indiana League.

Weihe's team is composed of a bunch of players that would give a league team a good battle. Walter Seamon, of the International league pitched yesterday's game and Rushville touched him up for eight hits, two of these being doubles. For five innings the team battled along on even terms. In the first of the fifth Rushville scored its only run, being the first team to score. In this inning with two men out Vordenburg hit to center field for two bases and then Doc Hellmund played the pinch hitter role by getting a clean single over short, bringing in Vordenburg.

George Rohe, who will play third base and captain the Rushville team this year played first base for the All-Pros yesterday. He will positively appear in a Rushville uniform next Sunday at the opening of the Rushville park. In the game yesterday the Rushville team looked exceptionally good and while the score of 6 to 1 does not appear very good a study of the box score throws a different light on the result.

The old hitting strength of the team is all there and this will improve as the team finds itself. Vordenburg should find a home here with the fans. He is a big six foot boy with plenty of stuff and never knows the word quit. In yesterday's game he was up against real batters including Jesse Tannehill, former Cincinnati Red; Al Kiser, former Indianapolis, Fed; Bill Breinstein, former Red; Henges, Ollie Chapman and a lot of others, but he got by nicely. He will be in shape by Sunday.

The outfield looks especially good. Hellmund pulled the circus catch of the game in center field when he pulled down a fly from Chapman's bat in the fifth after a hard run. Taken in all the game was worth while and the Rushville team was elated over the showing made. The week before the All-Pros pounded "Chuck" Heller, of the Perkins-Campbell team for 19 hits, which goes to show the difference in the pitching of Heller and Vordenburg.

SPRING FEVER DUE.

With the bright, warm sunny days, comes the annual malady—spring fever. And apparently Rushville has been seized. An epidemic prevails in the city, especially so among children of school age. The past 3 days have been of the finest kind and have caused the annual interest in baseball to be revived. The summer haunts will soon be visited—especially the "ole swimmin' hole." The barefoot boy with cheek of tan will soon appear, so you might as well prepare.

DICK WILSON'S PROSPECTS GOOD

Rushville Trainers Likely Looking
 String in Training at the State
 Fair Grounds.

STAR TRAMP LEADS BUNCH

Henrietta is Classy Looking Trotter he Has This Year That Should be High Class.

Will Gahagan, a fast horse authority, contributes an article to the Indianapolis Sunday Star detailing the prospects of Indiana trainers who have their horses in training at the state fair grounds. Mr. Gahagan speaks most encouragingly of the stable Dick Wilson of this city has:

Dick Wilson, the Rushville trainer, is back on the job with a good stable. Dick moved his stable up from Rushville the first of the month and has several in his charge that have shown enough to make them look especially good. One of the most classy looking members of the bunch is the trotter Star Tramp, 2:18½, that a Rushville syndicate bought at the recent Cambridge City sale. Harrie Jones worked this horse several miles around 2:10 last July, but it got sick and had to be laid off for the season. It is an impressive looking trotter, greatly resembling the chesnut stallion Stroller, 2:05½, that raced down the Grand Circuit a few seasons back, and from what I saw of him in action last week I would mark him down for a trotter that would trot extremely fast. Another trotter in the Wilson school that has shown to be better than a 2:10 trotter is the big mare, Henrietta, 2:14½, by Hellograph, 2:12½. Although she was sick most of last season she did show that she was far better than an ordinary trotter on more than one occasion. When she trotted to mark at Terre Haute Henrietta stepped the last half in 1:05 and was timed a quarter in :31. She got her record in the third heat at "the Hut" and beat some trotters of class. She is a rugged-made mare and built to stand the journey and should make a high-class mare for Dick.

The remainder of the string consists of Zulu Maid, 2:16½; Hazel Princeton, 2:25; Sue Dillon, a green trotting mare by Sidney Dillon that is showing up well in her work; White Ball, 2:12½; Black Ball, 2:12½ a pacer that could pace in 2:10 over a half mile track last fall; a green pacer called Progress Regulator; a green pacer by Sidney Dillon; Geo. Edwards, a green pacer by Fred Wilkes that was timed in 2:13½ in a race over a two-lap track last fall; a green trotter by Sidney Dillon; a green pacer by Charley Hayt, 2:06½, and The Jester, a green trotter by The Exponent, 2:11½. Several more will join the Wilson stable in a few days. Dick is assisted by Len Stevens, the Newcastle trainer who campaigned Henrietta last season, and later William Wilson, son of Richard, will be on the job.

IN STERLING LIVES A GIRL

Who Suffered As Many Girls Do—Tells How She Found Relief.

Sterling, Conn.—"I am a girl of 22 years and I used to faint away every month and was very weak. I was also bothered a lot with female weakness. I read your little book 'Wisdom for Women,' and I saw how others had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and decided to try it, and it has made me feel like a new girl and I am now relieved of all these troubles. I hope all young girls will get relief as I have. I never felt better in my life."—Mrs. JOHN TETREAULT, Box 116, Sterling, Conn.

Massena, N. Y.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I highly recommend it. If anyone wants to write to me I will gladly tell her about my case. I was certainly in a bad condition as my blood was all turning to water. I had pimples on my face and a bad color, and for five years I had been troubled with suppression. The doctors called it 'Anemia and Exhaustion,' and said I was all run down, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought me out all right."—Miss LAVISA MYRES, Box 74, Massena, N. Y.

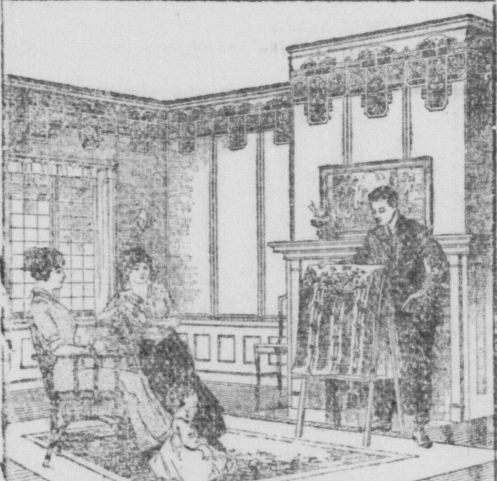

Young Girls, Heed This Advice.

Girls who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, headache, dragging-down sensations, fainting spells or indigestion, should immediately seek restoration to health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

INDIANA CASE WILL BE HEARD

Coal Operators Are First to Take Troubles Before The New Federal Trade Commission

THEY WANT TO ORGANIZE

Desire Advice and Hope to Get Results Without Violating the Anti-Trust Law

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Indianapolis, April 19.—Representatives of the Indiana coal operators will go to Washington this week to appear before the new federal trade commission seeking authority to organize in such a way as to curtail the output in Indiana and thus do away with "cut throat competition" which they say exists in Indiana. The Indiana operators were first to take their troubles to the new commission. Their move may result in a general increase in the price of Indiana coal.

C. N. Elliott, secretary-treasurer of the Indiana Fuel Supply Co., which has as one of its departments the Indian Creek Coal and Mining Co., explained to the United Press today the situation in Indiana from the operators' viewpoint. The Indian Creek company is the biggest operation in Indiana. Its mines are located in Knox county.

"The output of coal in Indiana is so far beyond the demand that the operators face what amounts to cut-throat competition," he said. "The plan is to obtain permission to organize to control the output but not in any way to restrain trade. We wish the trade commission to go thoroughly into the Indiana situation, arrive at a valuation of the various operations and then fix a just price for coal that will allow the investors a fair rate on their investment. We do not seek to increase the price of coal beyond normal."

Mr. Elliott explained that whereas Indiana operators are now glad to get $1 a ton for coal F. O. B. the mines, there was a time when the wholesale price reached $1.50 every season. "There was a time when we could get $2.50 F. O. B. the mines," said Mr. Elliott.

As it is at present, it is impossible to control the output, said Elliott. Each operator has so much coal land and it is his consuming ambition to get the coal out of that land as quickly as possible and turn it into money. The result is that the coal is a drug on the market. The Chicago market practically controls the price for Indiana, he said.

Elliott said that what the operators are asking is nothing more than cement asked of the government. At one time, he said, cement reached as low as 65 cents a barrel F. O. B. the mills. At the request of the manufacturers the government conducted a thorough investigation. Mr. Elliott explained, with the result that the minimum price was fixed at $1. He said the government took into consideration the total investment, which was enormous, and fixed a rate that would allow a fair profit.

A dispatch from Washington quotes a member of the trade commission on the report that the operators desire advice from the commission as to the method of obtaining the desired result without violating the provisions of the Sherman anti-trust act. It says in part:

"Our opinion," said one member of the commission, "would be of no more value to the Illinois and Indiana coal operators than the opinion of their own counsel in so far as it will insure then protection against prosecution for a violation of the anti-trust laws."

TRIAL MAY BE DEFERRED Quite Likely That Murder Case Will Be Postponed

Logansport, Ind., April 19.—Although the case of Bert Watson, colored barber, charged with the murder of Clinton C. Young, a Vandalia brakeman, last February, is slated for today there is a possibility that the trial will be deferred until next Monday. The murder was committed at Clymers, near this city. It is understood that W. Elgin Berridge at former Vandalia brakeman, who is being held on a charge of complicity, has turned state's evidence. Berridge is said to have made a confession which led to the arrest of Watson.

SAMUEL COULTER IS SENT TO PRISON

Greensburg Man Who Shot Frank
Beagle, of Near Sandusky, Gets
Two to Fourteen Years.

DECEASED REPUTATION GOOD

Samuel Coulter of Greensburg was sentenced to a term of from two to fourteen years on a verdict of manslaughter returned by a jury in the Decatur circuit court last Saturday night for the murder of Frank Beagle, who lived in the Springhill neighborhood near Sandusky, in Greensburg February 18.

The jury was out three and a half hours. Coulter was charged with first degree murder, and public sentiment seemed to favor him, according to Greensburg newspapers, until the state introduced some rebuttal evidence which went against the defendant.

In rebuttal, the state introduced a number of reliable persons who testified that Beagle's reputation was good.

NOTICE

For the Improvement of a Highway in Anderson Township, Rush County, Indiana.

Notice for the improvement of a Highway in Anderson Township, Rush County, Indiana. Notice is hereby given that a petition has been filed in my office for the grading, draining and paving with crushed stone or gravel of a certain highway in Anderson township, Rush County, Indiana, which petition is in words and figures as follows, to-wit:

To the Honorable Board of Commissioners, Rush County, Indiana:
The undersigned petitioners respectfully represent to your Honorable Board, that this petition is signed by at least fifty free holders and voters of Anderson township, Rush County, Indiana; that there is an existing public highway in said township described as follows:
Beginning at the southwest corner of Section 30, township 12 north, range 10 east and running thence north along the line separating ranges 10 and 12 to the southwest corner of Section 19, township and range aforesaid where the same joins an existing free gravel or macadamized road.

Your petitioners respectfully petition that said highway be improved by grading, draining and paving the same with crushed stone. Said stone to be what is known as the "Kin-dale Stone" or its equivalent and that said road be constructed in such manner as to make what is known as a water bound macadam pike and that said highway remain the same width as the same now is. That all necessary drains, side-sains, bridges, culverts and sewer tile therein be so constructed as to properly drain and protect said road when so constructed.

Said petitioners further show that said Anderson township has no incorporated town within it, neither has it a city within its border and that said road will be of public utility to grade, drain, and pave the same as herein prayed. That the costs thereof will be less than the benefits occasioned thereby; that said road will not pass into or through any incorporated town or city; that said road connects with the south line of said Anderson township and with an existing free gravel or macadam road at the north end thereof.

Said petitioners further show that said road is not more than three miles in length but is in fact but a little over one mile in length; and that a United States rural route passes over the entire length thereof and that the township school hack route passes over the same.

Wherefore your petitioners ask that said highway be improved, graded, drained and paved as hereinbefore described.
Respectfully submitted—

ADVICE IN RUSH COUNTY TIMELY

Bulletin on "Hog Cholera Control"

Should be of Interest to Farmers Here.

THIS COUNTY AHEAD OF REST

State Statistician's Report Showed it First in Number of Hogs
Lost by Disease.

In view of the fact that Rush county led the other countries of Indiana in the number of hogs lost by disease during the years 1912 and 1913, according to the biennial report of the state statistician, the newspaper bulletin just issued C. H. Clink, assistant in serum production at the Purdue university agricultural experiment station, is especially timely.

The bulletin is entitled "Hog Cholera Control." He points out that it is best to treat all hogs in an infected herds to guard against the disease and not merely those which reveal symptoms of the disease. He says:

There has been a large number of scattered outbreaks of hog-cholera in Indiana during the past winter. The loss from this disease in 1914 was about the average for the past fourteen years, or about 300,000 hogs. More can be done in the control of hog-cholera in your community at this time than later in the season.

On farms that are free of infection, it is well to remove all manure, and clean the hog yards by scraping together the corn cobs and hauling them to the fields to be plowed under all wallow holes should be filled; the hog houses and cots should be sprayed with a disinfectant. These precautions should be taken before the arrival of warm weather.

If there has been hog-cholera infection on the farm during the last several months, it is necessary to practice more rigid precautions in ridding the premises of the disease. All litter such as manure, cobs and straw piles should be burned or hauled to a field where there is no danger of spreading the infection. It is not advisable to scatter it over the field, as there is danger of birds distributing the cholera infection to neighboring farms. If piled up for a few months and mixed with chloride of lime, it is then safe to scatter the manure over the field. All wallow holes should be filled in. The fences about the yards, lot and hog houses should be sprayed with a three percent water solution of a cresol disinfectant. A small quantity of lime may be added to the disinfecting solution so that the sprayed surface appears white and the danger of failing to spray the entire surface is avoided. Quick lime should be scattered about the yards. If the above precautions are practiced following an outbreak, the yards may be safely restocked in two or three months with hogs.

It is well to treat all hogs in an infected herd, that are not showing serious symptoms of hog-cholera, with anti-hog-cholera serum. The healthy hogs in the herd should be vaccinated by the simultaneous method. The carcasses of hogs dying of hog-cholera should be burned. All hogs on farms that adjoin premises where there is an outbreak of hog-cholera or that have been directly exposed to the disease should be vaccinated by the simultaneous method. We consider this a necessary control measure because of the attitude of the average farmer toward the quarantine measures recommended by health officers. The Veterinary Department can supply anti-hog-cholera serum through the local veterinarians. Application blanks will be furnished upon request. The cost of reproduction and administration is charged for the serum and the farmer is expected to furnish the Department a report of the results of the vaccination or treatment.

PLEADS FOR HER BIGAMIST SPOUSE

Child Wife of William K. Nourse, Serving Time at Joliet, Ill., Before Pardon Board

HER FATHER GETS THE BLAME

Declared She Was Satisfied Husband Had Been Legally Divorced Before She Married Him

(By United Press.)
Joliet, Ill., April 19.—Alice Springer-Nourse, child wife of William K. Nourse, serving an indeterminate sentence of from one to fourteen years for bigamy, appeared before the State Board of Pardons at the penitentiary recently in one of the most earnest and pathetic pleas which has been heard. Mrs. Nourse was accompanied by her husband's mother and while Attorney Zack Hofheimer appeared as counsel, the child wife made the principal plea.

She was young, soulful, evidently accomplished and with a voice as low as the summer wind. The young wife, with her hand resting on the shoulder of Attorney Hofheimer for support, told of her marriage to William K. Nourse and of his two other matrimonial alliances, declaring that she was satisfied that he had been legally divorced before she married him. She wept as she said that it was her father who had shattered her romance, torn her husband from her side and had directed the fight which had landed him in a cell in the penitentiary.

"The Bible commands a wife to cleave to her husband," she declared. "This I have done and I intend to do until death do us part. I have sacrificed the friendship of my closest relatives in obeying that injunction, but that sacrifice was made because of the love of my husband, and who is here today behind the walls, unjustly convicted on technicalities of law.

"It was my father, an attorney in Detroit, Mich., who filed the complaint against my husband, and was successful in sending him to prison. Often in my loneliness I sit and wonder that daddy, dear old daddy, of my babyhood, the Prince Charming of my girlhood, so kind, so loving, who always sought to give me everything in this world that my heart could desire, could efface all of the love that his fatherhood meant by placing prison bars between his girl and he whom she held dearest in life."

In a voice broken with sobs, Mrs. Nourse ended her plea with an almost whispered paraphrase of the sixteenth verse of the first chapter of Ruth. "I sat by his side during his trial. I watched the scales of justice with the hope that he would be spared to me," she said "and ever my prayer was: 'Treat me not to leave him, for whither he goes I will go and where he lodges I will lodge, his people shall be my people and his God my God. Where he dies, will I die and there will I be buried; the Lord do so to me and even more also, to me and even more also, if I ought but death part he and me.'"

The mother of Nourse accompanied his wife and she added her plea to that of her daughter-in-law that clemency might be shown and that justice be done to her son and that he be released from prison in the shortest possible time. Mrs. Nourse the elder showed plainly the terrible strain under which she was laboring and leaned heavily on her daughter-in-law while making her plea to the board.

Her auditors were visibly affected by both the entreaty from the mother's heart and the passionate pleas of the wife, separated almost before her honeymoon had begun, and while encouragement was apparent on the part of the pardon board both were informed that it would be necessary to weigh all of the evidence in the case and that a decision could be reached only after this had been done. That an early decision would be reached was the promise of the pardon board, and the two women left for home buoyed up with the hope that the son and husband would be restored to them soon and that he would be relieved of the necessity of even serving the minimum under his sentence.

Nourse was sentenced to the Illinois State Penitentiary in November, 1914, on an indeterminate sentence of from one to fourteen years. Both his wife and mother were with him in the court room during the trial and did all in their power to aid him. Both fainted when the verdict of guilty was returned.

NOTICE

For the Improvement of a Highway in Anderson and Rushville Townships, Rush County, Indiana.

Notice for the improvement of a highway in Anderson and Rushville Townships, Rush County, Indiana:
Notice is hereby given that a petition has been filed in my office for the grading, draining, and paving with crushed stone or gravel of a certain highway in Anderson and Rushville Townships, Rush County, Indiana, which petition is in words and figures as follows, to-wit: To the Honorable Board of Commissioners of Rush County, State of Indiana:
The undersigned respectfully petition your honorable board and say that they constitute and are fifty (50) freeholders and legal voters of Anderson township, Rush county, state of Indiana, and twenty (20) freeholders and legal voters of Rushville township, Rush county, state of Indiana; that the improvement of the public highway beginning at a point in the center of the Andersonville and Milroy Free Gravel Road, which runs east and west, and the line of section twelve (12) north, range nine (9) east, and the north line of section thirteen (13) township and range aforesaid; said point is about seventy-seven (77) rods more or less west of the southeast corner of said section twelve (12), township and range aforesaid; thence running and extending due north from said point about two thousand feet more or less, following on and along the center line of a now established public highway running north from said point, and on the east side and adjacent to McClellan's Addition to the town of Milroy, state of Indiana, and commonly known as "Walnut street," in said town to the end thereof; thence in a north or northerly direction following the center line of an established public highway, in and through the lands of Sally A. Bartlett or Sarah A. Bartlett, in the northeast quarter (1/4) of said section twelve (12), township and range aforesaid, to an established public highway being commonly known as the "Frank McCorkle Road," at an angle of about ten (10) degrees to a point in the center of an established public highway, running northeast and southwest from said last mentioned point therein, along and almost parallel with the right-of-way of the Michigan Division of the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railway; thence from said point in a northeasterly direction on and along the center meandering line of said now established public highway last aforesaid described, over and across a part of the southeast quarter (1/4) of section one (1) township twelve (12) north, range nine (9) east, to a point where said now established public highway, aforesaid described, intersects and crosses the right-of-way of the Michigan Division of the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railway; thence over and across the right-of-way of said railway; thence in a northerly direction therefrom following the center meandering line of the aforesaid described public highway about thirty (30) rods more or less; thence northeasterly, meandering and bearing to the northeast about forty (40) rods more or less to a point in the line dividing section one (1), township twelve (12) north, range nine (9) east, and section six (6), township twelve (12) north, range ten (10) east, where said aforesaid described now established public highway touches and intersects said section dividing line; thence north from said point, across, upon and over said congressional township line, and on and along the east line of section thirty-six (36), township thirteen (13) north, range nine (9) east, and on and along the west line of section thirty-one (31), township thirteen (13) north, range ten (10) east, following the center line of the aforesaid described now established public highway which runs north and south from said last mentioned and described point, to the northwest corner of section thirty-one (31), township thirteen (13) north, range ten (10) east, or the north line of said section thirty-one (31); thence continuing north following the center line of the aforesaid now established public highway, and on the east line of section thirty-six (36), township thirteen (13) north, range nine (9) east, and on the west line of section thirty (30), township thirteen (13) north, range ten (10) east about one hundred and fifty (150) feet more or less to the south end of the "Ara W. Bennett Free Stone Road," running north from the northeast corner of said section thirty-one (31), township thirteen (13) north, range nine (9) east, said course of said proposed public highway to be improved, to extend on, over and across all division lines between sections and crossings from beginning to terminus thereof; that all the aforesaid described public highway herein proposed to be improved, is in Anderson township, Rush county, state of Indiana, except that part of the aforesaid described public highway north from the northwest corner of section thirty-one (31), township thirteen (13) north, range ten (10) east, being one hundred and fifty (150) feet more or less which runs and extends upon and over the township line dividing Anderson township and Rushville township, all in Rush county, state of Indiana.

That said public highway herein proposed to be improved connects at each end thereof with either a free gravel or free stone road, connecting to the north and south with the "Ara W. Bennett Free Stone Road" at the south end thereof with the Andersonville and Milroy Free Gravel Road; that said public highway proposed to be improved herein, connects at each end thereof with United States Rural Free Delivery Mail Routes and one mile of the north end thereof is now used by a United States Rural Free Delivery Mail Route.

That said public highway herein proposed to be improved is less than three (3) miles in length.
That said public highway herein proposed to be improved is now established.
Your petitioners further say that to improve the public highway herein described, by grading, draining and paving with gravel or broken stone, will be of public utility; that said Anderson township and said Rushville township, nor either of them have an incorporated town within them separately nor jointly or severally which is of less than thirty thousand inhabitants; that there is no incorporated town or city within the said Anderson township or said Rushville township, separately, jointly or severally that has as great a population as thirty thousand inhabitants.

Wherefore your petitioners respectfully pray that the public highway as hereinbefore and above described shall be improved by being graded, drained and paved with gravel or broken stone, and that the same be constructed and improved as aforesaid thirty (30) feet in width its entire length, in all things in accordance with section 771 to 779, inclusive, of the Revised Statutes of the State of Indiana, and all acts concerning and amendatory thereof, and supplemental thereto and sections 62 to 68, inclusive, of the Acts of the General Assembly, of the state of Indiana, 1915, concerning highways, and all acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto.

and sane Fourth celebration is contained in this item.

As usual the fires from "unknown" origin were most numerous with "sparks from chimney" and "communicated loss" close up in the race as the most popular fire causes. Defective flues caused 1,266 fires as against 1,762 of unknown origin and 1,332 from chimney sparks. Incendiary fires numbered 166, and 34 other causes are mentioned. In the roll of counties Marion County leads with 1,160 fires, and Vanderburgh is second with 451. Lake and Madison counties show an excessive number of fires with 338 and 337 respectively.

Fire prevention work by the department is divided into inspection of fire hazards and their removal by legal processes, the investigation of incendiary fire and the arrest and prosecution of criminals. The report shows that during the year 11 fire bugs were convicted out of 31 arrested, and four were acquitted. One was murdered pending trial and juries disagreed in three cases. The remaining cases have not yet been finally disposed of.

As a cure for the fire bug germ, the report calls attention to the need of legislation tending toward the regulation of insurance underwriting as, it is stated, ninety per cent of the crooked fires in Indiana are what might be termed "greed crimes" and are directly traceable to over insurance.

The power of the State Fire Marshal to order the destruction of dilapidated buildings or walls, such as might be regarded as fire hazards, was upheld in circuit courts of the state, the report states, in contests filed by property owners. A decision of Judge Walter A. Funk, of the St. Joseph Circuit Court, is quoted in support of this power. An opinion of Attorney General Monan on the power and duties of the Fire Marshal is made a part of report.

The story of 5,088 "house cleanings" is contained in the report. The inspection department made 17,906 inspections during the year. The most common violation of the code noted was the accumulation of waste and such debris as might cause fire by spontaneous combustion or the quick spread of flames started by another cause. The report shows that Indiana has its full share of poor housekeepers.

Much of the activity of the inspectors of the department has resulted from the greatly increased consumption of gasoline due to the more general use of the automobile. Moving picture theaters also have required additional effort in regulation. A field for work for the paid city and town fireman who spends many idle hours about the engine house is suggested in the report. It is recommended that the fireman is well equipped as an inspector of fire risks and should be so employed during a part of each day. Such activity, it is asserted, would decrease the demand for his services as a fire fighter.

DEFECTIVE FLUES CLOSE UP

As Cure For Fire Bug Germ, Report Calls Attention to Need of Legislation in This Line.

Figures showing a fire loss of $7,926,936 in 1914 in Indiana, together with records of the work of fire prevention in inspection, the prosecution of fire bugs, and along educational lines, are contained in the annual report of W. E. Longley, State Fire Marshal, for 1914, which has just been issued.

The report is bound in neat pamphlet form containing sixty pages and is embellished by cuts showing arson "plants" and fire traps. The text was prepared by John W. Minor, Jr., Roger W. Wallace and Ralph E. Richman, heads of the divisions of the Fire Marshal's department. The report is addressed to Governor Ralston, and is the first covering a full twelve months since the organization of the department in the spring of 1913. The department operated at an expense of $31,664.03 in 1914. It is apparent that the fire loss in the state in 1914, which was almost eight million dollars, was far in excess of the loss the previous year. Exact figures, however, can not be shown in the Fire Marshal's files for 1913, as the department operated during eight months only of that year.

An interesting array of tables showing the fire record by months is made a part of this report. July lead in both the number of fires, 977, and in value of property destroyed, $1,172,545. An argument for a safe

Is now on exhibition in our window

After Eleven Days of Severe Use the Anglo Persian Fulfills its Promises for Service.

Laid on the sidewalk in front of our store for eleven days (7 a. m. to 10 p. m. each day) subjected to all kinds of wear and weather, walked on by thousands of pairs of dirty shoes and is now as good as new.

NOT A SEAM RIPPED, THE ORIGINAL COLOR IS UNBLEMISHED, THE SURFACE YARN IS UNMARRED.

NO RUG LIKE THIS ANYWHERE

WHITTALL'S have not won their reputation for making the finest rugs in all America without deserving it. It took a long while, much experiment, expenditure of large sums, and always patience, and then more patience. At last they won, and Anglo Persian rugs are properly rated as their greatest accomplishment, as the finest rugs made in the whole length and breadth of the United States.

They are thus rated not because of one thing.

THEY HAVE MANY POINTS OF EXCELLENCE

They are beautiful in pattern. They are rich in color. They are firm in texture. They have strength and supply beauty. They are of such diversity of design that one is easily found to fit into any special plan of decorating and furnishings. And they are of such splendid material that they give long and satisfactory service.

PERFECT IN EVERY STANDPOINT

The dyes that go into coloring the splendid yarns are time-tested. The yarns themselves are specially selected. The patterns are often copied from rich and rare carpets of the Oriental East. Sometimes the designers catch the inspiration of the old school. Here again is a rug that shows adaption that is singularly beautiful. But quality is the keynote, the one great feature. It is quality that shows in pattern and in colors, in weavings as in every feature that combines to make genuine lasting rug goodness.

The Window is Open

You are earnestly requested to step inside and examine the Rug that stood the severest test ever given a floor covering. The dirt you see on exhibition was taken from the rug in one sweeping, or about one-eleventh of the dirt ground into the rug during the time it was on the walk.

CONSPIRATORS IN LEAVENWORTH

Nineteen Convicted Terre Haute Men
Arrive at Federal Prison Aboard
Special Today.

INCIDENTS OF THE TRIP

Police Chief Holler Curses Roberts,
Says he Wishes he Had Never Seen the Mayor.

(By United Press.)
Leavenworth, Kas., April 19.—Nineteen Terre Haute conspirators, including Mayor Donn M. Roberts, Circuit Judge El Redman and Chief of Police Ed Holler arrived at the federal penitentiary just before noon today in the special car in which they came from Indianapolis. The prisoners saw the end of the journey gladly even though it meant years of imprisonment for them, for they had experienced a most tiresome trip in a day coach. During the night Mayor Roberts and the others caught only brief snatches of sleep curled up on a seat.

Roberts was treated coldly by many of his companions. Holler cursed him, saying he wished he had never seen the mayor. Holler himself was shunned, for he was the only confessed conspirator aboard the prison car. Hilton Redman blamed Roberts for his predicament.

Roberts tried to put life into the crowd. He called on Harry Montgomery to make a stump speech. "I'm through with politics," said the former president of the board of works.

As the train left Jefferson City some one asked what lights he saw and it was explained they were the lights of the state prison. There was silence for a time.

George Ehrenhardt gave out a formal statement in which he spoke highly of Judge Anderson, District Attorney Bailey and Marshal Storen. The former member of the board of works said he would try to gain liberty at the earliest possible moment by being a model prisoner. He said that under no circumstances would he accept bond for release.

The car containing the Terre Haute party was cut off of the Colorado tier at the prison yards and a special engine pushed it through the big iron gate into the "trap" on the federal property. Another gate opened and the car was brought within a few feet of the prison door.

The prisoners were received by Captain Purcell acting deputy warden. Their names and addresses were taken, they submitted to a physical examination and then they were photographed and their Bertillon measurements and finger prints recorded.

Warden Morgan said it had not been determined what tasks would be assigned the men. Places probably will be found for them as clerks or orderlies. They were taken to the prison dining room and had their first taste of prison fare.

AN HOUR AT KANSAS CITY.

(By United Press.)
Kansas City, April 19.—Bearing Mayor Donn Roberts and fourteen other co-conspirators in the Terre Haute election frauds, the Missouri Pacific special arrived in the yards here shortly before 8 a. m. today. The train was kept here an hour before proceeding to Leavenworth where the prisoners will begin serving sentences ranging from six years to a year and a day.

The special car bearing the sixteen Terre Haute convicted conspirators left Indianapolis shortly after one o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Dr. J. N. Hurty Will Talk on "Taxes and Public Health."

Preparations are being made for the coming of Dr. J. N. Hurty, state health commissioner, Wednesday, when he will deliver an address in the evening at seven-thirty o'clock at the Graham school auditorium on the subject, "Taxation and Public Health." He is being brought here by the parent teachers association. A special musical and literary program is being prepared to be given before the lecture. The lecture is open to the public and it is hoped that a large crowd will turn out to hear the man who has made Indiana health laws a model for other states to copy.

THE ENGINE IS NOT INJURED

The automobile owned by James Tarplee was badly damaged by fire Sunday morning in front of the Service garage in West Second street when the overflow of gasoline from the tank ignited from an electric spark. The gasoline tank on the auto had just been filled and in doing so the tank overflowed. On starting the engine, a spark ignited the gasoline and in a moment the machine was in flames.

The engine was not damaged but the machine from the windshield on back was practically demolished. The fire department was called and chemicals were used to good advantage in saving a part of the machine. Tarplee did not carry any insurance.

ROBBERS ENTER A LOCAL MEAT MARKET

Gaining Entrance Through Rear
Door, Thieves Steal $2 But Disturbs Nothing Else.

ANOTHER THEFT REPORTED

The meat market of Harry Kramer was entered some time Saturday night after eleven o'clock and two dollars taken from the cash register. Entrance was gained through a rear window which was pried open. The store was closed Saturday night about eleven o'clock and only two dollars was left in the cash drawer.

The robbery was discovered Sunday morning. The burglar was evidently after money only as no meat was missed. The cash register was not damaged as the robber opened the drawer as in making a sale.

Thieves stole groceries from Ed Benedict's porch at 629 West Fifth street Saturday.

It is believed would-be robbers were frightened away from the home of John Higgs corner of Eighth and Jackson streets Saturday night. Foot tracks were found under the window where it was thought they were trying to gain entrance.

Mrs. Joe Harlan, living south of Newcastle, who has been suffering for several weeks from appendicitis, underwent an operation at the Sexton hospital Saturday.

TO MAKE FARMER PAY MORE TAXES

Bartholomew County Assessor
Writes Other Assessors Inquiring
About Farm Appraisements.

HENRY W. SCHRADER REPLIES

Rural Land Assessments, it is Expected, Will Average About $50
An Acre, Here, Which is Average.

In an effort to lessen the burdens of the city taxpayer, William G. Smith, assessor of Bartholomew county, has written to a number of other assessors inquiring about their rural land assessments. Henry W. Schrader, Rush county assessor, received a letter from Mr. Smith and replied that it was hoped to make the average land assessment in Rush county fifty dollars an acre.

Mr. Smith is of the opinion that there is too much difference between the assessment of farm property and city property and he is endeavoring to raise the assessment of farm land in Bartholomew county so that farmers will have to pay their share of the taxes.

Mr. Smith, according to the Columbus, Republican is of the opinion that much city real estate is appraised at its actual value, whereas farm land is not being assessed at much more than forty per cent of its value, if as much.

Mr. Smith was especially desirous of learning what the rule was about the assessment of farm lands located near the county seat. Mr. Schrader replied that the farms near Rushville were being assessed at from ninety to one hundred dollars an acre. This is up to the standard being followed in other counties, according to replies the Bartholomew county assessor received.

C. B. Jones, assessor of Howard county, replies that land within two miles of Kokomo is being assessed at from $75 to $125 per acre, according to location. If the same rate of assessment was applied in Bartholomew county there would almost be a revolution and the court house likely would be in danger, the Columbus Republican avers. Assessor Jones says Howard county land as a whole averaged about $40 an acre in 1911 and that the average will be about $50 this year, taking the county over.

A. D. Johnson assessor of Johnson county, has written Mr. Smith that land near Franklin is being assessed on a basis of from $75 to $90 per acre and some vacant ground within the corporate limits of Franklin is being assessed at $100 per acre. Along the interurban line land in Johnson county is being listed at from $60 to $75 per acre. Other good land in more remote parts of Johnson county is being assessed this year at from $40 to $60 per acre, the assessor said.

FUNERAL TOMORROW.

The funeral services of Edward Young who died Saturday afternoon, will be conducted at the late residence in West Seventh street, Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock. The Knights Templar will be in charge.

LAST LECTURE TONIGHT.

The last lecture of the series, an extra one, will be given by Mrs. Demarecus C. Brown of Indianapolis at the Graham school assembly room tonight at seven-thirty o'clock on the subject, "The Burne Country." The first part of the lecture will be devoted to Robert Burns and the last of municipal ownership as it has been applied in Glasgow, Scotland.

BARNES LIBEL TRIAL STARTS

Politics Expected to Play Important Part in Suit in Which Roosevelt is Defendant

MANY REVELATIONS EXPECTED

Based on Assertion That There Was a Bipartisan Agreement Between Barnes and Murphy

(By United Press.)
Syracuse, N. Y., April 19. Colonel Roosevelt was the first of the principals to arrive at the Onondaga court today for the opening of the damage suit for $50,000 brought against him by William Barnes. Barnes asked that sum because the former president named him as a partner with "Boss" Murphy of Tammany Hall in "an alliance between crooked business and crooked politics." "Roosevelt was snapped by the movies and showed his teeth."

Barnes and his counsel arrived a few minutes later. His face wore the usual scowl.

James Cregor, farmer, a Republican was the first talesman examined by attorneys for Barnes.

The questions indicated that Barnes relies upon Justice Andrews to hold that the Roosevelt statement was in itself libelous. He also was asked if political consideration would influence him or if he would try the case as an ordinary case.

During the trial of the Barnes-Roosevelt suit Theodore Roosevelt promises to open Republican state organization closets and reveal some political skeletons. William Barnes is suing the former Republican president and present Progressive leader to recover $50,000 damages for alleged libel.

Amidst his pre-election activities last year, Roosevelt declared a bipartisan agreement existed in this state between the Republican and Democratic organizations. He specifically accused Barnes of being politically leagued with Charles F. Murphy. Barnes although no longer Republican state committee chairman, is regarded still as state Republican leader. Murphy, as head of Tammany hall, is looked on as state Democratic leader. Following the colonel's cry of "combination" against Barnes, the Republican leader instituted his present libel action.

Barnes first petitioned the case's trial in Albany county, his place of residence. Before Supreme Court Justice Chester at Albany Roosevelt some weeks ago moved for a change of venue. The colonel alleged Barnes controlled Albany county and an "impartial trial" was impossible for him there. Justice Chester denied the motion by the appellate division at Saratoga, upon Roosevelt's appeal fixed Onondaga county as the place of trial.

A prevailing impression is that the present court proceeding is rich in possible revelations, affecting not only Albany county and New York city politics but also state and even national politics. According to some political observers the trial may tell an interesting and illuminating story of all four. Roosevelt's friends declare that he as New York's governor used his opportunity to learn the Empire State's "inside politics" and he stands ready to share his alleged knowledge with the public.

That the defense will probe deeply into any possible political operations on Barnes part in Albany County is certain. Reports from Albany declare that the defendant's counsel has scattered a number of subpoenas in that district. The indication is that the records of the Democratic probe of several years ago in-

FACES DEATH ON GALLOWS

Leo M. Frank's Appeal is Denied by Supreme Court Today.

(By United Press.)
Washington, April 19.—The supreme court today refused to set aside conviction of Leo M. Frank, the young Atlanta, Ga., Jew, of murdering Mary Phagan. Frank now faces death on the gallows unless Georgia's governor grants clemency. The court denied Frank's application for a habeas corpus writ upon which Frank sought a new trial.

Justice Holmes read a dissenting opinion, stating Justice Hughes and he were of the opinion that the judgment should be reserved.

WIFE THREW BUCKET OF WATER ON HIM

This is One of Allegations Claire
Smith Makes in Divorce Complaint Against Ella Smith.

WHAT SHE CALLED CHILDREN

Claire Smith this morning filed suit for divorce against his wife, Ella Smith. Smith alleges cruel and inhuman treatment, and according to the complaint, sets out that she had a bad temper and easily became angry with him. It is alleged that on one of these occasions she threw a bucket of water on him.

He alleges that she was a constant user of profane language and frequently cursed him and their two children. Mr. Smith asserts that she called their children little brats and little fools. According to the complaint, they were married in Fayette county on Dec. 20, 1905 and separated on March 14, 1915. He maintains that she is not a fit person to have the care of the children and asks for the custody of both.

MAY USE PRISONERS AT HOUSE CLEANING

Custodian Joe Dickman Possibly
Will Receive Assistance in Renovating Court House.

COURT MAY BE CONSULTED

Custodian Joe Dickman may use some of the prisoners at the county jail to help him with his annual spring house cleaning at the court house. Some of the ten men in jail serving long terms have asked that they be allowed to do little odd jobs that the time will not pass so heavily.

Custodian Dickman could use two or three of the men to good advantage with his spring cleaning and it is likely that they will be put to work. All of the windows in the court house are to be washed and these men in jail would do the work willingly for the exercise it is stated. Newton Casey, who has a long sentence, has asked that he be allowed to work and Frank Pittsford has signified his intentions of working if given a chance.

Sheriff Cavitt has used one or two of the men around the jail in the past few days and sees nothing wrong with working the men, providing they want to. The crimes for which the men are serving time are not of such a serious nature that the men would try to escape. The matter may be taken up with Judge Sparks to see if he favors the plan.

ANXIOUS TO GET THE BEST YIELDS

Farmers Are Taking Extra Precautions in Planting Their Corn
Crops This Spring.

CONDITIONS SO UNUSUAL

Few Fear That Rains Which Are Due Now May Come in May and Rot Seed in the Ground.

Because of the heavy demands which are being and will be made on the food producers of America until the end of and some time after the European war, many Rush county farmers are taking precautions in preparing this year's corn crop. Some little corn has been planted, but farmers hesitate at planting this early in the season because of the fear that their efforts and the seed corn may be wasted by unfavorable weather conditions yet this month.

But the weather has been so unusually good this month that spring work has progressed farther at this time and more corn has been planted than at the same period in many recent years. Because of the prices which their produce are bringing because of the struggle in Europe, farmers are using more than their usual care because it means much more money to get the best yields possible.

It was predicted by one farmer today that if the weather continues as warm all week as it was today, there will not be many farmers who will hesitate about planting corn and that practically every farm in Rush county will be in the throes of this annual task before the week is out.

As early as a week ago last Saturday one farmer reported the planting of corn. There are several others who are known to have begun planting last week. Some farmers, however, are still afraid to take the risk, but the kind of weather that prevailed today is calculated to remove all fears of any damage befalling the seed corn.

It is doubtful if there are a dozen farms in Rush county, it was stated today, where the spring plowing is not completed. Those farmers who hesitated about planting their corn have been coasting along doing other spring work and waiting for the accepted time for planting. Ground that was broken early has been frozen several times, but it will not require much work to put it in condition.

His Success

"The tide turned when I stopped scattering my shots and centered my advertising in the daily newspapers."

So a well-known Chicago merchant summed up the beginnings of his great success.

The same story is told by hundreds of other successful business men.

They found when they had a real message that the place to tell it was in the advertising columns of the newspaper.

People read it and their quick response shows that they were on the lookout for this very sort of news.

Headed by Mayor Donn M. Roberts, they left the Marion county jail, where they have been held since a week ago today when sentences were pronounced, at 1:15 o'clock Sunday afternoon and marched to the union station.

The prisoners were no shackles and each was accompanied by a deputy United States marshal. The prisoners included, besides Mayor Roberts, Harry S. Montgomery, a member of the Terre Haute board of works; Eli H. Redman, judge of the Vigo Circuit Court; Dennis Shea, former Sheriff of Vigo county; Edward Driscoll assistant city engineer of Terre Haute; George Ehrenhardt, former member of the board of public works; Thomas Smith, judge of the City Court; Hilton Redman, son of Eli H. Redman; Elmer E. Talbot, former city controller; Lewis Nunley city employee; William Crockett, city employee; Dr. John E. Green, dentist; Charles Houghton, city employee; Alexander Eazel, city employee, and John Edward Hollar, former chief of police.

The prisoners who departed for Leavenworth left behind them in the Marion county jail eighty-two other men who were found guilty or pleaded guilty in the election fraud conspiracy case. These men, who were sentenced to terms of less than a year, will serve their sentences in the jail here.

According to dispatches received today, people were out at towns and cities along the route followed by the train to see the prisoners. The car reached Terre Haute about 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The crowd which gathered there was estimated at several thousand people.

A dispatch to the Indianapolis Star says that from the crowd at the rear of the car, some one shouted: "Now, Donn, come out and give us a speech."

Some one got a glimpse of Roberts through the opening at the side of the drawn window blinds and shouted:

"There goes another governship boom."

In the crowd were many tear-stained eyes. Women and children, relatives of the accused wept as they waved a farewell when the train departed from the Terre Haute station.

As the train passed through the west part of Terre Haute, Lewis Nunley opened the car window and tossed into a yard near the track a letter to which was pinned a pink carnation. The letter was addressed to his mother, who lives at the address where it was tossed out. The only one of the prisoners to display any emotion as the train drew out of Terre Haute was Edward Driscoll, who was leaving behind in Terre Haute, his wife and three little daughters.

Driscoll, who was Roberts's secretary in the campaign, conversed with his wife and three children through the closed window.

"I sent you a letter; do just what I said in it," Driscoll shouted through the closed window and the tear-dimmed eyes of the wife expressed their understanding.

An aged man and woman edged their way through the crowd to the train. They carried a market basket. They intrusted it to one of the guards and asked him to give it to Judge Eli H. Redman and his son, Hilton. The basket contained an abundant supply of fried chicken.

SUIT FOR $5,500 ON NOTE STARTS

Case of H. J. Milligan vs. American Finance and Security Co., and Others in Circuit Court.

STARTED IN MARION COUNTY

The last week of the February term started this morning when the case of Harry J. Milligan against the American Finance and Securities Company, F. D. Heath and Cassius M. Curry, started before a jury and Special Judge Raymond Springer, of Connersville. A vacation of one week will result and then the May term of court will open.

Very little difficulty was had in securing a jury in the case as nothing was known of it here. The case was sent to this county on a change of venue from Shelby county. It was originally filed in Marion county. In the suit Milligan demands $5,500 on notes, naming the three defendants.

The case will likely take several days. The jury is as follows: Robert Kennedy, Robert Jarrett, James H. Spillman, Fred D. Pike, Charles Markle, Frank Brown, Horatio Havens, R. R. Rhodes, Henry Addison, J. R. McHenry, T. E. Medd and Patrick Carroll.

Edward Hassett, fire chief at Connersville, an old baseball player who was well known here, died at his sister's home in Newcastle Sunday after a three months illness with hardening of the arteries. Hassett played ball here frequently in years past.

The sale of Ida L. McKee administratrix of the estate of S. S. McKee will be held Wednesday April 21st beginning at one o'clock. 400 bushels of corn, 5 tons of hay, 132 head of hogs, farming implements, 4 head of cattle, 2 head of horses and numerous other articles. 3141

That New Submarine, Which Is In Vogue, Refuses To Be Submerged

BY MARGARET MASON (Written for United Press.)

A new hat is the submarine. A shipshape hat it is I ween. Yet inconsistent it behaves—

It always rests above the waves.

London, Apr. 16.—(By Mail to New York)—Ye ho! there my hearties! There's a crafty little new chapeau in the port of Fashion. Though it's dubbed the submarine it refused to be submerged and partly rides the crests of sleek coiffed heads and nestles snugly atop the Marcel waves of all the smartest dressers.

In its original form it is a close fitting elongated turban (not turbans) of tube straw in a Bordeaux color with an astonishing long cross airrette jutting up almost perpendicularly. As the submarine hat like all the others of the moment is worn rakishly tilted well down over the right eye it brings the airrette to a most distressing angle for unfortunate adjacent fellow beings. Mayhap this is where it gets one of its reasons for being christened in honor of an undersea destroyer.

Another new hat fancy is the pansy bonnet. Shakespeare's Ophelia said pansies for thought so the modern maid whose only and every thought is for Fashion says pansies are for hats and there they are.

Wonderfully realistic replicas they are of nature's most piquant flower and they bloom in purple profusion around the tiny toques and turbans of purpleish taupe and tete de nigre straw which have superseded the all lack straw for wear with street and informal costumes.

One adorable model of mauve toned taupe is of the tiny and elongated shape similar to the submarine. It has a soft crown of the same toned satin and banding its brimless outline are exquisite pansies shading from deepest velvety purple and wine to light lavender with an occasional little sunny yellow faced one peering out coquettishly.

Aigrettes flourish with undiminished popularity on this side of the water. What can the lives of a few birds more or less matter in countries where human life is at present being sacrificed so ruthlessly.

Every hat that does not bloom

with pansie sprouts aigrettes in some form or other. No wonder the aigrettes are usually "cross."

The extremely inadequate evening gowns have been appropriately christened "spy" gowns. After all there is something in a name. In this case much more than is in the dress. The three tiered skirts that are also the whim of the moment are called "The Allies" and some even go so far as to show a tiny embroidered flag of the three nations one each embroidered on a tier. There is really a touch of embroidery on almost everything and designs of colored bead work are also having their ornate effect on many of the newest model frocks. Beaded bags are playing a return date but this season they are made of larger wooden beads in neutral tints of grey taupe or black and white.

Perhaps under the heads of beads would come the earring now dangling from some of our very best ears? They are simply a sphere of clouded amber swinging from the nural appendage by a slender golden chain. Of course other semi-precious stones are used to form the spheres and different color schemes are obtained with balls of jade lapid lazuli and jet or crystal. It is the yellow touch of the amber however that holds the most ears in this fetching sway.

To show your heels is a sign of bravado these days since to be well heeled is to be heeled in brightest hues. Red heels green heels, white heels and silver heels add bright flashes of color under the full abbreviated skirts. It would seem as if an ordinary plain black heel were a thing to be despised. Silver sandals with astrap across the instep, fastening with a glistening buckle of precious stones to match the costume are most alluring for evening wear. They are especially fascinating when the more conventional buckle is replaced by a scintillating dragon fly or flower poised airily on a hidden spring gleams and trembles enchantingly with the least tripping of the light fantastic.

Indeed it would take a color smith not a blacksmith all the racy little fillets on the track of fashion this spring and summer season of 1915.

Amusements

The Mystic will show a two reel drama "Thoughts of Tonight" for the first picture of tonight's program. Lucile Young and Wallace McDonald are featured. The story is said to be taken from every day life. The other picture is a comedy entitled "A Man For That." Tomorrow matinee and night the two part feature "The Adventurer" will be shown. Dorothy Davenport is featured.

The Gem offers a two part drama "The Awaited Hour" for first picture tonight. William Shay William Welch and Violet Mersereau are featured. It is said to tell a gripping story and the prison scenes are said to have really been taken inside of the state prison near New York. The other picture is a drama "The Unmasking." Edna Maison and Sydney Ayres are featured. It is a story of an Italian, who comes to this country, makes his fortune and then forgets his wife and children. Tuesday matinee and night the next episode of "The Master Key" will be shown and a three reel Bison drama.

The Princess will show the five reel feature "Wildfire" for the program tonight. Lillian Russell, the famous actress, and William Elliott are featured. The story is one of mystery containing a dandy race scene. "Wildfire" wins the race and the story ends. The acting of Lillian Russell is said to be wonderful and this is one of the big features of a recent release. Tomorrow night the two act drama "Thirteen Down" will be shown. Francis Bushman and Beverly are featured.

John Denmer, formerly of this city, has obtained a position at the Lutheran sanitarium at Wheatridge, Colorado, near Denver, according to word received here.

What We Make It

A paragraph is flitting around in the press to the effect that "the future may be bright for some but the road will always be dark for others."

Of course some pessimist wrote it, for pessimists always mill around in the shadows. As a matter of hard fact, this world is always just about what we choose to make it. If we pull a long face and go out hunting for troubles, we will find them—in bunches. If we saddle ourselves with a case of the blues in the morning and hang onto it with a death grip all day, and take it to bed with us at night, we will probably find life's pathway shrouded in gloom. But it will be gloom of our own making, and we will be getting only that which we sought.

But how different is the other side? God inflicts us all with certain troubles but He also gives us brains, and determination, and a will power with which to rise above the petty perplexities and tribulations of life. The bright side of existence is all around us—in front of us—everywhere we turn—constantly knocking for admission. It is ours for the taking.

The man or woman who cannot feel thankful for the pure air, and the bright side of existence is all around us—in front of us—everywhere we turn—constantly knocking for admission. It is ours for the taking.

The man or woman who cannot feel thankful for the pure air, and the bright side of existence is all around us—in front of us—everywhere we turn—constantly knocking for admission. It is ours for the taking.

The man or woman who cannot feel thankful for the pure air, and the bright side of existence is all around us—in front of us—everywhere we turn—constantly knocking for admission. It is ours for the taking.

Every trouble inflicted upon us is for our own ultimate good, and they are infinitesimal when compared with the joys of a bright mind, a clear conscience and a determination to reap to the fullest of life's blessings. If the road is dark to some, it is because they do not use the brains which God gave them in overcoming the obstacles which lie in His wisdom has placed in their pathway. Our future is up to us to make or to mar, as we choose.

Mark's Wit Recalled

When Mark Twain in his early days, was editor of a Missouri paper a superstitious subscriber wrote to him saying that he had found a spider in his paper, and asking him whether that was a sign of good or bad. The humorist wrote him this answer, and printed it:

"Old Subscriber—Finding a spider in your paper was neither good luck nor bad luck for you. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant is not advertising so that he can go to that store, spin his web across the door and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward." —London Evening Standard.

Nothing doing—we positively and emphatically and vociferously decline the presidency. Too strenuous a job while these wars are frolic-ing around the globe.

And Jack Johnson's memory will be as black as his face.

No there are no gossips in this town—just a few tongues galloping through life.

Everybody wants to go to heaven, but the young buck who spends his time making "racy" remarks about women will find it a long and rocky road to travel.

Good times are ahead for those who go after them. But the laggard will always have a grunt coming.

Pack your grip, doc! In Serbia, there are only ten doctors available for each 3,000 patients.

Cuba will allow no more prize fights. But we still have peaceful Mexico.

Steady, there! This town is in no danger from the Zeppelins.

Some men are so lazy they never work except in fly time.

Keep moving. The top is always ahead of you.

HOOSIER HISTORY

(Prepared by the United Press From Records in the State Library.)

Governor Morton, the war governor, by his firm stand during the civil war, prevented opposition to the administration gaining ground in Indiana and thus prevented the state from withdrawing its support from President Lincoln.

The first volunteers enlisted for three months. It was soon found that a long term would be necessary. Three years or for the war then became the usual length of term except in unusual instances when such as 100 days. The people who stayed at home generally aided in supporting the union and the troops in the field.

Among the frequently visited corridors in the state house are those on the third floor where are kept the many battle flags of the various regiments of Indiana which participated in the Civil War. For a number of years the battle regiment emblems were kept in a room in the state house where they became dusty and were fast fading away. A number of years ago the patriots in this state organized a movement to preserve the standards and it resulted in the legislature making provisions for the preservation of the flags in glass cases. Many members of the various regiments who were writers have written histories of the marches, camps and battle incidents of their several regiments, and the records have carefully been preserved in the state library. Many of the records contain accurate data of the history of the state during the civil war and years subsequent.

WAR NEWS FEATURE

Paris, April 3. (By Mail to New York)—While the French government itself has undertaken the rebuilding of the thousands of homes destroyed in the present war, the women of France have just completed an organization to insure their refurbishing. The population in the invaded districts they assert will be as helpless to refurbish the homes as they would be to rebuild them.

The "Union Fraternelle des Femmes" is the organization which has just perfected the project. Madame Amelie Hammer, the president, has just explained to the United Press what is to be undertaken and how it is to be accomplished.

"Our work," she said, "is to be as much moral as it is social. We propose merely to help the unfortunate and not to give them charity. Every person whose home has been destroyed and who is unable to refurbish the new one which the government builds for them, will have help from us in just the degree they need. If absolutely imperative, we will furnish their homes without expecta-

WILL HOLD ROAD SCHOOL IN STATE

Highway Engineering Department of Purdue University Will Start Unique Undertaking

FIRST ONE AT EVANSVILLE

Representative of United States Office of Public Roads Will be Present and Speak

A road school for the first congressional district will be held at Evansville, April 29th and 30th. The school will be under the direction of the highway engineering department of Purdue university.

Prof. G. E. Martin in charge of road work at Purdue says: "This is the first of a series of road schools to be held throughout the state. The best practical information on road building and maintenance will be brought to the people. The special road problems of each section of the state will be considered in the several schools."

The Evansville school will be opened by an automobile trip over some of the highways in the vicinity of Evansville.

Governor Ralston has been invited to be present at the school and make the first address on the program.

J. H. Dodge of the U. S. office of public roads will assist in the instruction at the school. Mr. Dodge is an expert on the construction of sand-clay roads and will make a special study of Indiana conditions to determine if the sand-clay road would be a proper one to build here or not.

Among the Purdue men who will take part in the instructional work of the road school are Prof. W. K. Hart Professor R. L. Sackett and Professor G. E. Martin, all of the School of Civil Engineering. Instruction will consist of lectures on methods of constructing sand-clay gravel and macadam roads, the use of road machinery, choice of road building materials, methods of maintaining various kinds of roads and dust prevention.

Plenty of time will be given for discussion at all sessions of the school and it is hoped that road officials will bring their problems to the school for solution. An exhibition of road building materials and road working machinery is to be held in connection with the school.

tion of repayment. But the others will pay us back in installments in conformity with their possibilities.

"While it is inevitable that Paris will be the center and the brain of this work and this organization, we have already perfected the details for other centers to participate in it. In all of the provinces adjacent to the invaded districts we have arranged for at least once one city to be a depot for supplying the furnishings to the new houses. This will give a quicker response to the needs of the destroyed villages and isolated houses and will also be a result in a distribution of the work that will be involved in the manufacture of the household equipment necessary."

France is already making a reasonable use of her war prisoners in keeping up the necessary manual labor of the nation.

For the time being at least, the sending of the prisoners to Algeria and Morocco, where thousands have been employed almost from the first days of the war, has been temporarily abandoned. They are now being utilized closer to home.

In Corsica about 3,000 are being worked in the mines. In the agricultural districts of France about 450 are being worked at Puy-de-Dome; about 1,050 in Brittany while another lot is used in railway construction along the north coast, while large contingents are being utilized in other public works in the Champagne, Creuse, Ardeche and Hierault.

CARE OF INSANE IS NEW SCIENCE

Great Advances Have Been Made in Past Decade in This Particular Line of Work

NO LONGER CALLED "INMATES"

Percentage of Incurables Constantly Growing Smaller According to Dr. William Mabon

BY CARLTON TEN EYCK
(Written for United Press.)

New York, Apr. 19.—Care of the insane is a new science. Medieval tortures of lunatics are prescribed, strictly. No in any decade since the world began have such great advances been made in the care of those afflicted with insanity.

These are a few of the observations which have been pounded home to the public knowledge, and conscience, by Dr. William Mabon, medical superintendent of the Manhattan state hospital, one of the largest asylums, in the United States if not in the world.

The advance of scientific care for insane, says Dr. Mabon, is typified in a nutshell, in the fact that the name "asylum" is now tabooed. Its "hospital" instead. The unfortunate in such places are no longer "inmates," but "patients." Few are beyond hope of medical treatment. The percentage of incurables is constantly growing smaller, according to Dr. Mabon.

"There was a time when the public looked upon the institutions for the insane very much as we now look upon the prisons," said Dr. Mabon. "The fact that when we spoke of a lunatic asylum and at present speak of a hospital for the treatment of mental diseases is not merely a change in name, but indicates a profound revolution in the internal development of such institutions.

"From mere detention places, in which the essential point of view was the safeguarding of the public against dangerous lunatics the institutions developed first to custodial institutions in which the welfare of the patient was pushed into the foreground; but the treatment was yet essentially general, without adequate reference to the needs of the specific case.

"The next step of development was in the direction of the real hospital, in which each case is studied on its own merits, and the hospitals are also assuming their share in guiding the mental health of the public."

GOV. RALSTON WILL SPEAK

To Deliver Address at First Session of Presbytery

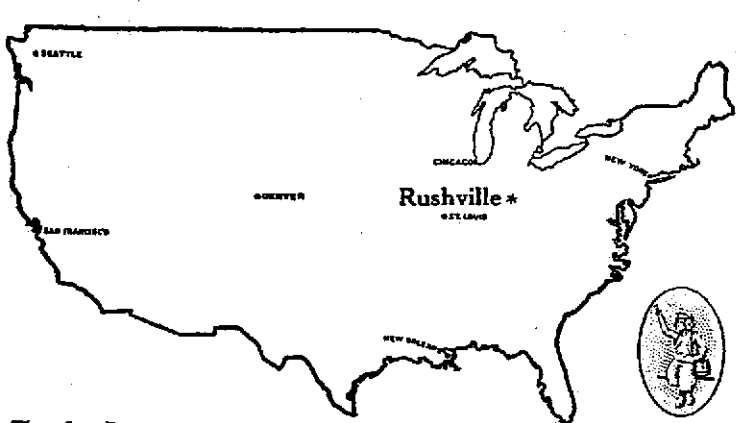

(By United Press.)

Lebanon, Ind., April 19.—The two day session of the spring meeting of the Crawfordville Presbytery opened at the First Presbyterian church today. One hundred ministers and delegates from the district attended the first session. Governor Samuel M. Ralston, a member of the local church will address the Presbytery tonight on the subject of "Good Citizenship." His address will be followed by a talk on "The Great War" by George L. Mackintosh, D. D., President of the Wabash college. The three sessions each day will be devoted to the business of the district presbytery and reports will be read by many commissioners appointed at the last meeting.

To the Business Men of RUSHVILLE

When a good salesman goes out after business, he first puts on a clean collar and gets his shoes shined. Then he looks like more business—and he's made a flying start toward getting it.

Likewise, a community can go after more business—and get it. The "clean collar and shiny shoes" of this town are the well-painted stores, the bright, cheery homes, the fresh, clean-looking buildings. The part paint plays in building up local pride cannot be put in figures—but its good effects are recorded on the local merchants' sales sheets. Buy good paint. We recommend and sell

TEAM LOSES, BUT MAKES SHOWING

In Second Practice Game of Season
Rushville Played All-Pros Even
For Five Innings.

VORDENBURG WAS IN FORM

Pitched Better Ball Than Seamon
But Support in One Inning Responsible For 4 Runs.

Cincinnati, O., April 19.—In the second practice game of the season Manager Davidson's Rushville team was defeated yesterday by Weihe's All-Pros by a score of 6 to 1. But for one bad inning Rushville would have held the leaguers to a 2 to 1 count. The one bad inning behind Vordenburg was the sixth when two hits and three errors netted four runs.

The Rushville team showed remarkable form when it is taken into consideration that this was the second game the team has played and the first time this year that Vordenburg has gone the full route of nine innings. Vordenburg certainly looks good and any time he can hold a bunch of sluggers like the All-Pros to seven hits he should go like a house afire in the Indiana League.

Weihe's team is composed of a bunch of players that would give a league team a good battle. Walter Seamon, of the International league pitched yesterday's game and Rushville touched him up for eight hits, two of these being doubles. For five innings the team battled along on even terms. In the first of the fifth Rushville scored its only run, being the first time to score. In this inning with two men out Vordenburg hit to center field for two bases and then Doc Hellmund played the pinch hitter role by getting a clean single over short, bringing in Vordenburg.

George Rohe, who will play third base and captain the Rushville team this year played first base for the All-Pros yesterday. He will positively appear in a Rushville uniform next Sunday at the opening of the Rushville park. In the game yesterday the Rushville team looked exceptionally good and while the score of 6 to 1 does not appear very good a study of the box score throws a different light on the result. The old hitting strength of the team is all there and this will improve as the team finds itself. Vordenburg should find a home here with the fans. He is a big six foot boy with plenty of stuff and never knows the word quit. In yesterday's game he was up against real batters including Jesse Tannehill, former Cincinnati Red; Al Kiser, former Indianapolis Red; Bill Brunistein, former Red; Henges, Olie Chapman and a lot of others, but he got by nicely. He will be in shape by Sunday.

The outfield looks especially good. Hellmund pulled the circus catch of the game in center field when he pulled down a fly from Chapman's bat in the fifth after a hard run. Taken in all the game was worth while and the Rushville team was elated over the showing made. The week before the All-Pros pounded "Chuck" Heller, of the Perkins-Campbell team for 19 hits, which goes to show the difference in the pitching of Heller and Vordenburg.

SPRING FEVER DUE.

With the bright, warm sunny days, comes the annual melody—spring fever. And apparently Rushville has been seized. An epidemic prevails in the city, especially so among children of school age. The past 3 days have been of the finest kind and have caused the annual interest in baseball to be revived. The summer haunts will soon be visited—especially the "ole swimmin' hole." The barefoot boy with check of tan will soon appear, so you might as well prepare.

DICK WILSON'S PROSPECTS GOOD

Rushville Trainers Likely Looking

String in Training at the State
Fair Grounds.

STAR TRAMP LEADS BUNCH

Henrietta is Classy Looking Trotter he Has This Year That Should be High Class.

Will Gahagan, a fast horse authority, contributes an article to the Indianapolis Sunday Star detailing the prospects of Indiana trainers who have their horses in training at the state fair grounds. Mr. Gahagan speaks most encouragingly of the stable Dick Wilson of this city has:

Dick Wilson, the Rushville trainer, is back on the job with a good stable. Dick moved his stable up from Rushville the first of the month and has several in his charge that have shown enough to make them look especially good. One of the most classy looking members of the bunch is the trotter Star Tramp, 2:18½, that a Rushville syndicate bought at the recent Cambridge City sale. Harrie Jones worked this horse several miles around 2:10 last July, but it got sick and had to be laid off for the season. It is an impressive looking trotter, greatly resembling the chestnut stallion Stroller, 2:05½, that raced down the Grand Circuit a few seasons back, and from what I saw of him in action last week I would mark him down for a trotter that would trot extremely fast. Another trotter in the Wilson school that has shown to be better than a 2:10 trotter is the big mare, Henrietta, 2:14½, by Heliograph, 2:12½. Although she was sick most of last season she did show that she was far better than an ordinary trotter on more than one occasion. When she trotted to mark at Terre Haute Henrietta stepped the last half in 1:05 and was timed a quarter in 31. She got her record in the third heat at "the flat" and beat some trotters of class. She is a rugged-made mare and built to stand the journey and should make a high-class mare for Dick.

The remainder of the string consists of Zulu Maid, 2:16½; Hazel Princeton, 2:25; Sue Dillon, a green trotting mare by Sidney Dillon that is showing up well in her work; White Ball, 2:12½; Black Ball, 2:12½; a pacer that could pace in 2:10 over a half mile track last fall; a green pacer called Progress Regulator; a green pacer by Sidney Dillon; Geo. Edwards, a green pacer by Fred Wilkes that was timed in 2:13½ in a race over a two-lap track last fall; a green trotter by Sidney Dillon; a green pacer by Charley Hayt, 2:06½; and The Jester, a green trotter by The Exponent, 2:11½. Several more will join the Wilson stable in a few days. Dick is assisted by Len Stevens, the Newcastle trainer who campaigned Henrietta last season, and later William Wilson, son of Richard, will be on the job.

LAYMAN IS THE MODERATOR

First Time This Has Ever Happened in Presbytery

Sullivan, Ind., April 19.—The annual session of the Presbytery of Indiana opened in the Presbyterian church today with representatives here from all the churches in the synod. The opening address will be delivered by John C. Chaney, a layman, tonight. This is the first time a layman has been moderator. The sessions will continue for three days. Tomorrow night a popular meeting will be held at which Dr. William Love Bryan, of Indiana university and the Rev. Thomas White will be the speakers.

IN STERLING LIVES A GIRL

Who Suffered As Many Girls Do—Tells How She Found Relief.

Sterling, Conn.—"I am a girl of 22 years and I used to faint away every month and was very weak. I was also bothered a lot with female weakness. I read your little book 'Wisdom for Women,' and I saw how others had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and decided to try it, and it has made me feel like a new girl and I am now relieved of all these troubles. I hope all young girls will get relief as I have. I never felt better in my life."—Mrs. JOHN TETREAU, Box 116, Sterling, Conn.

Massena, N. Y.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I highly recommend it. If anyone wants to write to me I will gladly tell her about my case. I was certainly in a bad condition as my blood was all turning to water. I had pimples on my face and a bad color, and for five years I had been troubled with suppression. The doctors called it 'Anemia and Exhaustion,' and said I was all run down, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought me out all right."—Miss LAVISA MYERS, Box 74, Massena, N. Y.

Young Girls, Heed This Advice.

Girls who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, headache, dragging-down sensations, fainting spells or indigestion, should immediately seek restoration to health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury

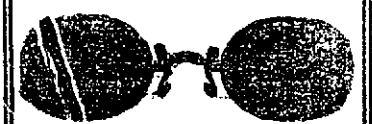

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. INDIANA CASE WILL BE HEARD

Coal Operators Are First to Take Troubles Before The New Federal Trade Commission

THEY WANT TO ORGANIZE

Desire Advice and Hope to Get Results Without Violating the Anti-Trust Law

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Indianapolis, April 19.—Representatives of the Indiana coal operators will go to Washington this week to appear before the new federal trade commission seeking authority to organize in such a way as to curtail the output in Indiana and thus do away with "cut throat competition" which they say exists in Indiana. The Indiana operators were first to take their troubles to the new commission. Their move may result in a general increase in the price of Indiana coal.

C. N. Elliott, secretary-treasurer of the Indiana Fuel Supply Co., which has as one of its departments the Indian Creek Coal and Mining Co., explained to the United Press today the situation in Indiana from the operators' viewpoint. The Indian Creek company is the biggest operation in Indiana. Its mines are located in Knox county.

"The output of coal in Indiana is so far beyond the demand that the operators face what amounts to cut-throat competition," he said. "The plan is to obtain permission to organize to control the output but not in any way to restrain trade. We wish the trade commission to go thoroughly into the Indiana situation, arrive at a valuation of the various operations and then fix a just price for coal that will allow the investors a fair rate on their investment. We do not seek to increase the price of coal beyond normal."

Mr. Elliott explained that whereas Indiana operators are now glad to get $1 a ton for coal F. O. B. the mines, there was a time when the wholesale price reached $1.50 every season. "There was a time when we could get $2.50 F. O. B. the mines," said Mr. Elliott.

As it is at present, it is impossible to control the output, said Elliott. Each operator has so much coal land and it is his consuming ambition to get the coal out of that land as quickly as possible and turn it into money. The result is that the coal is a drug on the market. The Chicago market practically controls the price for Indiana, he said.

Elliott said that what the operators are asking is nothing more than cement asked of the government. At one time, he said, cement reached as low as 65 cents a barrel F. O. B. the mills. At the request of the manufacturers the government conducted a thorough investigation. Mr. Elliott explained, with the result that the minimum price was fixed at $1. He said the government took into consideration the total investment, which was enormous, and fixed a rate that would allow a fair profit.

A dispatch from Washington quotes a member of the trade commission on the report that the operators desire advice from the commission as to the method of obtaining the desired result without violating the provisions of the Sherman anti-trust act. It says in part: "Our opinion," said one member of the commission, "would be of no more value to the Illinois and Indiana coal operators than the opinion of their own counsel in so far as it will insure then protection against prosecution for a violation of the anti-trust laws."

TRIAL MAY BE DEFERRED

Quite Likely That Murder Case Will Be Postponed

Logansport, Ind., April 19.—Although the case of Bert Watson, colored barber, charged with the murder of Clinton C. Young, a Vandalia brakeman, last February, is slated for today there is a possibility that the trial will be deferred until next Monday. The murder was committed at Clymers, near this city. It is understood that W. Elgin Berridge at former Vandalia brakeman, who is being held on a charge of complicity, has turned state's evidence. Berridge is said to have made a confession which led to the arrest of Watson.

SAMUEL COULTER IS SENT TO PRISON

Greensburg Man Who Shot Frank Beagle, of Near Sandusky, Gets Two to Fourteen Years.

DECEASED REPUTATION GOOD

Samuel Coulter of Greensburg was sentenced to a term of from two to fourteen years on a verdict of manslaughter returned by a jury in the Decatur circuit court last Saturday night for the murder of Frank Beagle, who lived in the Springhill neighborhood near Sandusky, in Greensburg February 18.

The jury was out three and a half hours. Coulter was charged with first degree murder, and public sentiment seemed to favor him, according to Greensburg newspapers, until the state introduced some rebuttal evidence which went against the defendant.

In rebuttal, the state introduced a number of reliable persons who testified that Beagle's reputation was good.

NOTICE

For the Improvement of a Highway in Anderson Township, Rush County, Indiana.

Notice for the improvement of a Highway in Anderson Township, Rush County, Indiana. Notice is hereby given that a petition has been filed in my office for the grading, draining and paving with crushed stone or gravel of a certain highway in Anderson township, Rush County, Indiana, which petition is in words and figures as follows, to-wit:

To the Honorable Board of Commissioners, Rush County, Indiana:

The undersigned petitioners respectfully represent to your Honorable Board, that this petition is signed by at least fifty free holders and voters of Anderson township, Rush County, Indiana; that there is an existing public highway in said township described as follows:

Beginning at the southwest corner of Section 30, township 12 north, range 10 east and running thence north along the line separating ranges 9 and 10, to the southwest corner of Section 19, township 12 north, range 10 east, where the same joins an existing free gravel or macadamized road.

Your petitioners respectfully petition that said highway be improved by grading, draining and paving with crushed stone or gravel. Said stone to be what is known as the "Kincaid Stone" or its equivalent and that said highway be constructed in such manner as to make what is known as a water bound macadam pipe and that said highway remain the same width as the same now is. That all necessary drains, side drains, bridges, culverts and sewer lines therein be so constructed as to properly drain and protect said road when so constructed.

Said petitioners further show that said Anderson township has no incorporated town within it, neither has it a city within its border and that said road will be of public utility to grade, drain, and pave the same as herein prayed. That the costs thereof will be less than the benefits occasioned thereby; that said road will not pass into or through any incorporated town or city; that said road connects with the south line of said Anderson township and with an existing free gravel or macadamized road at the north end thereof.

Said petitioners further show that said road is not more than three miles in length but is in fact but little over one mile in length; and that a United States rural mail route passes over the entire length thereof and that the township school bus route passes over the same.

Wherefore your petitioners ask that said highway be improved, graded, drained and paved as hereinbefore described.

ADVICE IN RUSH COUNTY TIMELY

Bulletin on "Hog Cholera Control" Should be of Interest to Farmers Here.

THIS COUNTY AHEAD OF REST

State Statistician's Report Showed it First in Number of Hogs Lost by Disease.

In view of the fact that Rush county led the other counties of Indiana in the number of hogs lost by disease during the years 1912 and 1913, according to the biennial report of the state statistician, the newspaper bulletin just issued C. H. Clink, assistant in serum production at the Purdue university agricultural experiment station, is especially timely.

The bulletin is entitled "Hog Cholera Control." He points out that it is best to treat all hogs in an infected herd to guard against the disease and not merely those which reveal symptoms of the disease. He says:

There has been a large number of scattered outbreaks of hog-cholera in Indiana during the past winter. The loss from this disease in 1914 was about the average for the past fourteen years, or about 300,000 hogs. More can be done in the control of hog-cholera in your community at this time than later in the season.

On farms that are free of infection, it is well to remove all manure, and clean the hog yards by scraping together the corn cobs and hauling them to the fields to be plowed under all wallow holes should be filled; the hog houses and coops should be sprayed with a disinfectant. These precautions should be taken before the arrival of warm weather.

If there has been hog-cholera infection on the farm during the last several months, it is necessary to practice more rigid precautions in ridding the premises of the disease. All litter such as manure, cobs and straw piles should be burned or hauled to a field where there is no danger of spreading the infection. It is not advisable to scatter it over the field, as there is danger of birds distributing the cholera infection to neighboring farms. If piled up for a few months and mixed with chloride of lime, it is then safe to scatter the manure over the field. All wallow holes should be filled in. The fences about the yards, lot and hog houses should be sprayed with a three percent water solution of a cresol disinfectant. A small quantity of lime may be added to the disinfecting solution so that the sprayed surface appears white and the danger of failing to spray the entire surface is avoided. Quick lime should be scattered about the yards. If the above precautions are practiced following an outbreak, the yards may be safely restocked in two or three months with hogs.

It is well to treat all hogs in an infected herd, that are not showing serious symptoms of hog-cholera, with anti-hog-cholera serum. The healthy hogs in the herd should be vaccinated by the simultaneous method. The carcasses of hogs dying of hog-cholera should be burned. All hogs on farms that adjoin premises where there is an outbreak of hog-cholera or that have been directly exposed to the disease should be vaccinated by the simultaneous method. We consider this a necessary control measure because of the attitude of the average farmer toward the quarantine measures recommended by health officers. The Veterinary Department can supply anti-hog-cholera serum through the local veterinarians. Application blanks will be furnished upon request. The cost of reproduction and administration is charged for the serum and the farmer is expected to furnish the Department a report of the results of the vaccination or treatment.

Annual Report of State Fire Marshall, Made Public Today, Shows 1,762 of This Class.

DEFECTIVE FLUES CLOSE UP

As Cure For Fire Bug Germ, Report Calls Attention to Need of Legislation in This Line.

Figures showing a fire loss of $7,926,936 in 1914 in Indiana, together with records of the work of fire prevention in inspection, the prosecution of fire bugs, and along educational lines, are contained in the annual report of W. E. Longley, State Fire Marshal, for 1914, which has just been issued.

The report is bound in neat pamphlet form containing sixty pages and is embellished by cuts showing arson "plants" and fire traps. The text was prepared by John W. Minor, Jr., Roger W. Wallace and Ralph E. Richman, heads of the divisions of the Fire Marshal's department. The report is addressed to Governor Ralston, and is the first covering a full twelve months since the organization of the department in the spring of 1913. The department operated at an expense of $31,664.03 in 1914. It is apparent that the fire loss in the state in 1914, which was almost eight million dollars, was far in excess of the loss the previous year. Exact figures, however, can not be shown in the Fire Marshal's files for 1913, as the department operated during eight months only of that year.

An interesting array of tables showing the fire record by months is made a part of this report. July lead in both the number of fires, 977, and in value of property destroyed, $1,172,545. An argument for a safe and sane Fourth celebration is contained in this item.

As usual the fires from "unknown" origin were most numerous with "sparks from chimney" and "communicated loss" close up in the race as the most popular fire causes. Defective flues caused 1,266 fires as against 1,762 of unknown origin and 1,332 from chimney sparks. Incendiary fires numbered 166, and 34 other causes are mentioned. In the roll of counties Marion County leads with 1,160 fires, and Vanderburgh is second with 451. Lake and Madison counties show an excessive number of fires with 338 and 337 respectively.

Fire prevention work by the department is divided into inspection of fire hazards and their removal by legal processes, the investigation of incendiary fire and the arrest and prosecution of criminals. The report shows that during the year 11 fire bugs were convicted out of 31 arrested, and four were acquitted. One was murdered pending trial and juries disagreed in three cases. The remaining cases have not yet been finally disposed of.

As a cure for the fire bug germ, the report calls attention to the need of legislation tending toward the regulation of insurance underwriting as, it is stated, ninety per cent of the crooked fires in Indiana are what might be termed "greed crimes" and are directly traceable to over insurance.

The power of the State Fire Marshal to order the destruction of dilapidated buildings or walls, such as might be regarded as fire hazards, was upheld in circuit courts of the state, the report states, in contests filed by property owners. A decision of Judge Walter A. Funk, of the St. Joseph Circuit Court, is quoted in support of this power. An opinion of Attorney General Monan on the power and duties of the Fire Marshal is made a part of report.

The story of 5,068 "house cleanings" is contained in the report. The inspection department made 17,906 inspections during the year. The most common violation of the code noted was the accumulation of waste and such debris as might cause fire by spontaneous combustion or the quick spread of flames started by another cause. The report shows that Indiana has its full share of poor housekeepers.

Much of the activity of the inspectors of the department has resulted from the greatly increased consumption of gasoline due to the more general use of the automobile. Moving picture theaters also have required additional effort in regulation. A field for work for the paid city and town fireman who spends many idle hours about the engine house is suggested in the report. It is recommended that the fireman is well equipped as an inspector of fire risks and should be so employed during a part of each day. Such activity, it is asserted, would decrease the demand for his services as a fire fighter.

THE RUG THAT STOOD AN ELEVEN-DAY TEST

Is now on exhibition in our window

After Eleven Days of Severe Use the Anglo Persian Fulfills its Promises for Service.

Laid on the sidewalk in front of our store for eleven days (7 a. m. to 10 p. m. each day) subjected to all kinds of wear and weather, walked on by thousands of pairs of dirty shoes and is now as good as new.

NOT A SEAM RIPPED, THE ORIGINAL COLOR IS UNBLEMISHED, THE SURFACE YARN IS UNMARRED.

NO RUG LIKE THIS ANYWHERE

WHITTALL'S have not won their reputation for making the finest rugs in all America without deserving it. It took a long while, much experiment, expenditure of large sums, and always patience, and then more patience. At last they won, and Anglo Persian rugs are properly rated as their greatest accomplishment, as the finest rugs made in the whole length and breadth of the United States.

They are thus rated not because of one thing.

THEY HAVE MANY POINTS OF EXCELLENCE

They are beautiful in pattern. They are rich in color. They are firm in texture. They have strength and supply beauty. They are of such diversity of design that one is easily found to fit into any special plan of decorating and furnishings. And they are of such splendid material that they give long and satisfactory service.

PERFECT IN EVERY STANDPOINT

The dyes that go into coloring the splendid yarns are time-tested. The yarns themselves are specially selected. The patterns are often copied from rich and rare carpets of the Oriental East. Sometimes the designers catch the inspiration of the old school. Here again is a rug that shows adaption that is singularly beautiful. But quality is the keynote, the one great feature. It is quality that shows in pattern and in colors, in weavings as in every feature that combines to make genuine lasting rug goodness.

The Window is Open

You are earnestly requested to step inside and examine the Rug that stood the severest test ever given a floor covering. The dirt you see on exhibition was taken from the rug in one sweeping, or about one-eleventh of the dirt ground into the rug during the time it was on the walk.
